Assembly Plans Quick End to Emergency Session

LEGISLATURE IN ARKANSAS STANDING BY

BULLETIN

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The 8th Circuit U. S. Court of Appeals today granted a stay today to its decision which would return seven Negro students to Central High School at Little Rock. Chief Justice Archibald K. Gardner announced from his home at Huron, S. D., that the seven-judge court had agreed to grant the stay.

Gardner, who wrote the only dissent in the 6-1 decision that overturned U. S. District Court Judge Harry J. Lemley's 2½-year breather order, said the stay was granted so the Little Rock School Board could appeal to the Supreme Court. The clerk of the appeals court, Robert Tucker, said a motion filed by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and the attorney for the Negro students would be denied. This motion asked that the appeals court issue its mandate on its decision reversing Judge Lemley immediately.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus today placed the Arkansas Legislature on a standby basis for a possible call Monday to deal with the explosive Central High School integration situation.

Bedford Citizens Celebrate Town's 200th Anniversary

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—Here in this southwestern Pennsylvania community of 3,500 Gen. Forbes constructed the first of three forts in his capture of the Ohio Valley. That was some 200 years ago, a long time.

But if you were to come here today, you would find yourself surrounded with an atmosphere of those days.

You would find men, women and children dressed as colonials. And you would see the Fort Bedford Brigade parading the streets with antique muskets.

Bedford citizens are celebrating the town's 200th birthday and they are reenacting its history.

Gen. Forbes named the community after an ancestor of the present Duke of Bedford, who came from England to help kick off the affair.

Among dignitaries expected to attend the celebration are Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, Pennsylvania Gov. Leader, Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) and representatives from the British Embassy.

A mammoth historical parade a mile and a half long is scheduled for Saturday. Stressing the historical theme of the parade, an official said:

"The most modern thing in it is a 1931 car."

Princess, 28, Automatically Loses Another $25,200 Year

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret became 28 today and automatically began losing another 9,000 pounds—$25,200—a year.

That's what it cost Queen Elizabeth's pretty sister not to have a husband.

Margaret's matrimonial losses are figured this way:

Parliament in 1937 granted her an annuity of 6,000 pounds on attaining the age of 21, or upon marriage.

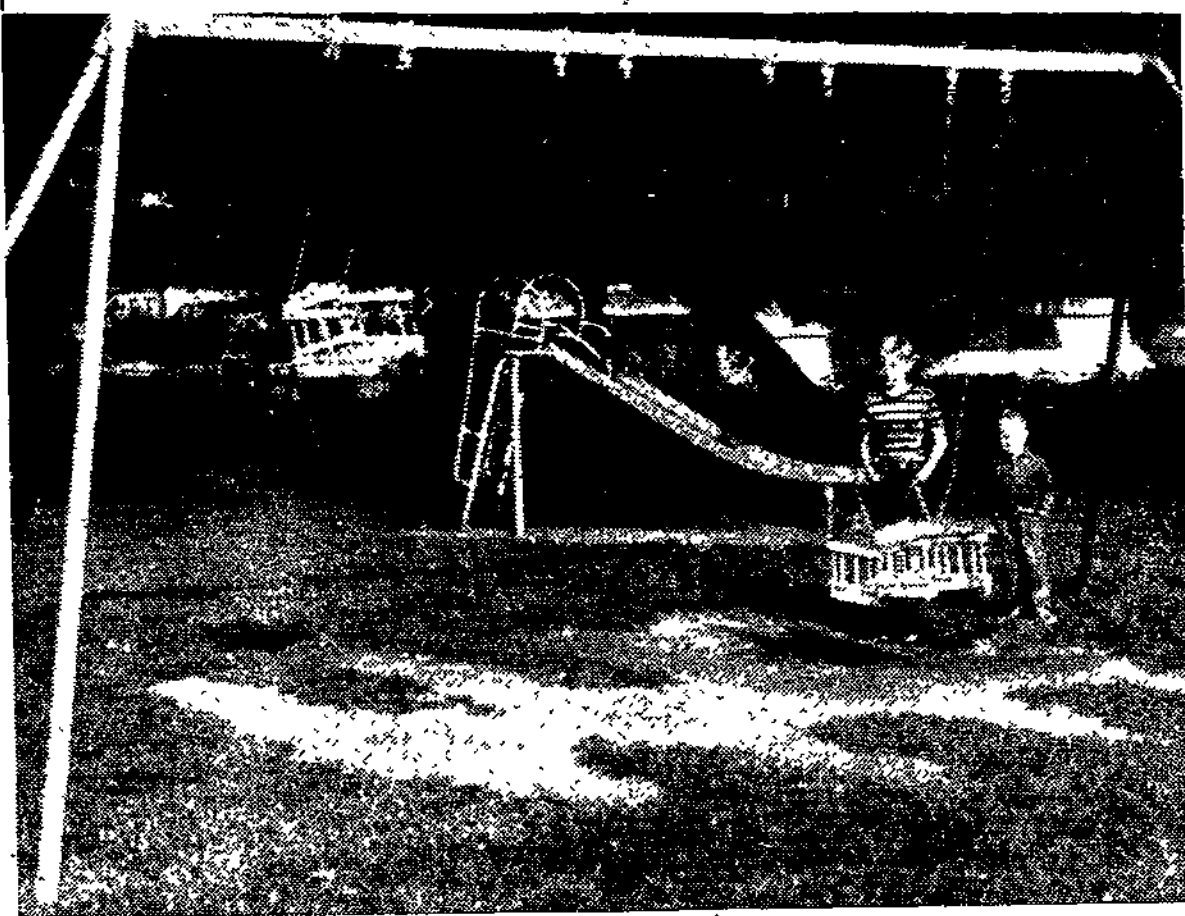

In 1952, Parliament increased the amount, to become payable on marriage, to 15,000 pounds a year.

This, of course, means that it costs her 9,000 pounds every year she remains single.

Shed no tears for Margaret's financial situation, however. She is loaded.

By law she and other members of the royal family are exempt from paying income tax.

Officials Grapple For Truck Driver Drowned in Crash

NEW MILFORD, Pa. (AP)—State police resumed grappling today for the body of a truck driver believed trapped in the cab of his vehicle after it plunged off the road into Alford Pond, about five miles south of here.

Rexford H. Smith, 48, of Tyrone, who escaped from the tractor-trailer, told police Raymond Earle Kooker, also of Tyrone, was trapped when the vehicle plunged off Route 11 Wednesday.

Trooper Richard Roberts, off duty and driving home from the New Milford station, passed the scene of the accident and pulled out Smith.

State police grappled for four hours Wednesday until darkness ended the operation but couldn't locate a body.

Smith, a relief driver, said he was asleep in the right front side of the cab when the truck hit the water. The men were driving to Tyrone from upper New York State. They carried no cargo.

Fights Over Supreme Court Bills Delaying Adjournment

By PAUL DUKE

WASHINGTON (AP)—New fights over Supreme Court bills and other unfinished legislation confronted Congress today as leaders clung to hopes for winding up the current session this week-end.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas set Saturday night as the target for adjournment.

But a big pile of work still lay ahead—the bulk of it with the Senate.

Today, for the third day in a row, the Senate considered legislation aimed at lessening the effect of recent Supreme Court decisions.

Opponents Wednesday night lost a move to quash debate on a measure designed to prevent state laws from being ruled invalid because they parallel federal acts. A move to table the bill, which is similar to one passed by the House, failed 46-39.

Earlier, the Senate killed by a 49-41 vote a bill to curb the review powers of the Supreme Court and to undo the effects of several rulings in Communist cases.

Should the Senate clear the decks of the court bills, Johnson said he hoped to move on today to consideration of the foreign aid money bill and a measure to hike the national debt ceiling from 280 to 288 billion dollars.

Johnson listed a dozen pieces of legislation which he said the Senate must act on before quitting for the year.

Nevertheless, he told the Senate, "We hope to get out of here Saturday night." It was the first time he had set an adjournment goal.

But a new snarl developed when the Senate and House differed on how much control Congress should exercise over the new civilian space agency.

The Senate, by an 86-0 count, insisted on keeping its provision to require that the agency obtain congressional consent each year for its programs. The House, by (Turn to Page Nineteen)

Labor Union Chiefs Have Gloomy Outlook

FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP)—

AFL-CIO leaders said today there may be prosperity again on Wall Street but for unemployed millions the recession remains a stark reality.

The labor union chiefs took a gloomy view of the nation's economic outlook particularly because of what they said is a return by President Eisenhower's administration to a tight money policy.

Statements approved by the AFL-CIO leaders criticized a recent Federal Reserve Board action pointing toward higher interest rates. They said increased interest rates may plunge the economy into a sharp new decline.

Truck driver William Pratchenko, 27, and his helper, Donald Young, 25, both of Allegheny, Pa., were admitted to East Liverpool, Ohio, Hospital in fair condition.

Barney Baker Called Back To the Stand

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert Barney Baker denied today testimony he left his former wife with a brag that Gov. Averell Harriman of New York would find him another, and he then would be safe from the law. "An absolute lie! I'm not kidding," the ponderous Baker, a top lieutenant to Teamster President James R. Hoffa, roared. The allegation had come from Mrs. Mollie Baker, his former wife, in testimony earlier this week to the Senate Rackets Committee. Baker denounced her as "a very vicious person." Baker's present wife, his third, is Mrs. Carol Ann More Baker, daughter of Jake More, former Iowa Democratic national committeeman. They were married last April. Baker and Mrs. Mollie Baker were divorced in 1955.

By ROBERT D. NOVAK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert (Barney) Baker swore today he didn't use teamster money to support a blonde convicted slayer in luxury in Miami in 1955. He said he couldn't remember exactly where he did get the money.

Baker, a $125 a week teamsters union organizer at the time, said the funds he put out for blonde Mrs. Ruth Brougher were "nothing like" the $20,000 to $25,000 she had testified he lavished on her. He set the figure Wednesday at $7,000 or $8,000.

Pressed by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee to tell the source of the thousands, the 300-pound Baker pleaded, "I can't remember. I don't want to perjure myself."

Baker, an ex-convict described by police as a onetime musclemann on the New York waterfront, said he had no recollection of threatening to kill Mrs. Brougher's lawyer or trying to strangle a Chicago hotel man who had complained about his bill. But he did not flatly deny he did those things. (Turn to Page Nineteen)

Sen. Martin Defends The Steel Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) says the steel industry is the "unjustly singled out as the pace-setter of inflation."

Martin told the senate Wednesday steel wage costs had increased 10 times as much as dividends since the 1947-49 period. He said wages went up $30.71 since 1947-4, but that dividends increased only $3.10 and reinvested earnings $6.69 a ton.

The senator, who is retiring this year, said he is concerned about wages increases unconnected with productivity, large deficits and other inflationary trends.

The Shaws and another occupant of the plane, Norman Reppig, of Holgate, Ohio, scrambled to safety before the craft caught fire.

U.S. Reported About Ready To Suspend Nuclear Tests

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) today cheered a report that the United States is about ready to announce a temporary suspension of nuclear weapons testing.

Humphrey, chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, said in an interview his staff had been informed such a step was under consideration.

"A temporary suspension on our part as a prelude to negotiation of a safeguarded agreement would be good, sound public policy," Humphrey said. "It would win us friends around the world, and put us out in front in the disarmament field."

The White House declined either to confirm or deny the report, which came Wednesday night from an informed source.

The source, asking to remain anonymous, said the government hopes a temporary halt might pave the way to a permanent international agreement for a test suspension, with adequate safeguards.

The United States has been conducting a test series in the Pacific. These tests began last spring and are scheduled to end soon.

The Soviet Union announced a unilateral test suspension last March at the end of a test series. Britain has been preparing to start a new series of tests in the Pacific.

Scientists from both Western and Communist nations announced agreement Tuesday on a technical system for policing any test suspension. This agreement was reached in seven weeks of talks in Geneva, Switzerland.

Plan Hearing on Minimum Wages In Eating Houses

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—The Restaurant, Hotel and Motel Minimum

Wage Board will hold hearings in Pittsburgh Friday and Philadelphia Tuesday after which it will make recommendations to the State Department of Labor and Industry.

The hearings will be the last two in a series of four. The board is taking testimony and will report to the department its findings on minimum wages for women and children in the restaurant, hotel and motel businesses.

At a hearing in Erie Wednesday, Dr. Anthony J. Bryski, director of research and statistics in the State Department of Labor and Industry, testified that a woman living alone in the Erie area needs a minimum of $2,800 yearly to maintain proper living standards.

A survey made under his direction, Dr. Bryski said, indicated that a woman living at home would need a minimum annual wage of $2,588 for adequate subsistence.

ARAB GROUP SHOWS RARE UNANIMITY

UNITED NATION, N. Y.

(AP)—The Arab countries, including pro-Western Lebanon and Jordan, today gave their final approval to Middle East peace formula expected to bring a quick end to the emergency session of the U. N. General Assembly.

The plan, agreed on tentatively Wednesday in a rare demonstration of Arab harmony, appeared headed for unanimous adoption in the 81-nation Assembly. The heads of the 10 Arab delegations agreed at a private meeting this morning to submit the four-point resolution endorsed by their governments in overnight consultations.

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly headed today toward a quick end to its emergency session after formulations of a four-point Arab plan to bring peace to the Middle East.

Western diplomats predicted unanimous support of the 81 Assembly members for the resolution drawn up Wednesday night in a rare show of unanimity by the 10 Arab nations in the U. N.

The plan was an Arab modification of a Western-backed Norwegian resolution now pending before the Assembly, and both contained key points suggested by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and President Eisenhower. But the Arab resolution shied away from specific endorsement of earlier proposals for either a U. N. police force or more U. N. observers in the Middle East.

Reciprocal Trade Program Is Given Four More Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—President

Eisenhower has signed legislation giving the reciprocal trade program four more years of life. It is the longest extension ever granted by Congress.

The administration had requested a five-year extension, but Eisenhower made it clear in signing the bill Wednesday that he was quite happy with what Congress provided.

Eisenhower said, the free nations, "are now assured of a continuity in United States trade policy that will make possible new international negotiations to promote mutually advantageous commercial exchange and increased world productivity."

The four-year extension of the 24-year-old program is expected to give the government sufficient power to deal with future trade problems arising from the new European Common Market.

This is a union of France, Italy, West Germany and the Benelux countries in a common market embracing some 160 million consumers.

Besides giving authority for the program to operate through June 30, 1962, the legislation provides additional powers to cut tariffs 20 per cent in return for like concessions from other nations.

Military Court In Jordan Dooms Arabs for Plot

Round-the-Clock Tests On Rocket Engine Halt

Reaction Motors Inc. has bowed to complaints by local residents and halted round-the-clock tests on a rocket engine designed for the first manned space vehicle.

Some 150 residents of the Hibernia and Lake Telemark areas petitioned the company, saying they did not want to appear unpatriotic but complaining the noise and vibration caused physical discomfort and property damage.

Reaction Motors agreed to restrict major tests on the engine, the X15, to the hours from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Unidentified Jet Turns Out To Be Friendly T33 Trainer

GRANDVIEW, Mo. (AP)—High

over western Missouri a jet plane streaked northward toward Kansas Wednesday. It was unidentified, and thus presumed by the Air Force to be an enemy.

At Richards-Gebaur AFB here on the southern outskirts of Kansas City, a sleek F102A jet took off to intercept the invader.

Within minutes, 1st Lt. Roland Svane, 26, Seattle, and his interceptor sighted the aggressor aircraft at 41,000 feet.

Svane attacked. Three Falcon air-to-air missiles shot from the interceptor toward the target. One of them hit the tail of the plane, and the jet headed earthward. Its two crewmen bailed out.

Unfortunately, the enemy was a T33 Air Force trainer and Svane's attack was a routine practice maneuver. Routine, that is, until the three missiles, which automatically seek their targets and explode if they miss, were discharged.

The trainer's crew, 1st Lt. John D. Rice, 27, Sacramento, Calif., and 1st Lt. Raymond Zuhars Jr., 26, Evansville, Ind., escaped with cuts and bruises. They landed on a farm near Clinton, Mo.

Svane declined comment when asked what caused the Falcons to fire. Rice and Zuhars, who are being treated at Richards-Gebaur Hospital, were equally reticent.

Air Force officials said they are investigating.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) says the steel industry is often "unjustly singled out as the pace-setter of inflation."

Martin told the senate Wednesday steel wage costs had increased 10 times as much as dividends since the 1947-49 period. He said wages went up $30.71 since 1947-4, but that dividends increased only $3.10 and reinvested earnings $6.69 a ton.

The senator, who is retiring this year, said he is concerned about wages increases unconnected with productivity, large deficits and other inflationary trends.

Butler Couple Escapes In Crash of Airplane

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shaw of Maplewood, Ohio, are minus a private plane today—but safe and sound.

The small plane crashed and burned Wednesday in a driveway near the Roe Airport, seven miles west of Butler.

Shaw, the pilot, said he overshot the landing strip in a downwind.

The Shaws and another occupant of the plane, Norman Reppig, of Holgate, Ohio, scrambled to safety before the craft caught fire.

New Question - Answer Column Concerning Warren Boro Schools

As a public service, the Times-Mirror with the cooperation of the public schools will soon start a new column. This will be in the form of a question and answer feature on the school system.

Dr. Carl Whipple, superintendent of schools, and his staff will answer questions readers may send to this paper. Because the School Board and Dr. Whipple feel the citizens should make themselves informed on the schools, we offer this means of communication between the public and the school administration.

We urge parents and friends of the schools to help us make this column a success by sending in their questions on school construction, teaching methods, courses studied, student's behavior problems and familiar subjects.

Names will not be printed or furnished to the school authorities but must be attached to the original letter mailed to us. The writer will remain anonymous to Dr. Whipple and his staff.

Necessarily, both questions and answers should be brief. We reserve the right to edit any questions we feel too long or irrelevant. Send your questions now to School Editor, care of the Times-Mirror.

U.S. Reported About Ready To Suspend Nuclear Tests

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) today cheered a report that the United States is about ready to announce a temporary suspension of nuclear weapons testing.

Humphrey, chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, said in an interview his staff had been informed such a step was under consideration.

A temporary suspension on our part as a prelude to negotiation of a safeguarded agreement would be good, sound public policy," Humphrey said. "It would win us friends around the world, and put us out in front in the disarmament field."

The White House declined either to confirm or deny the report, which came Wednesday night from an informed source.

The source, asking to remain anonymous, said the government hopes a temporary halt might pave the way to a permanent international agreement for a test suspension, with adequate safeguards.

The United States has been conducting a test series in the Pacific. These tests began last spring and are scheduled to end soon.

The Soviet Union announced a unilateral test suspension last suspension last March at the end of a test series. Britain has been preparing to start a new series of tests in the Pacific.

Scientists from both Western and Communist nations announced agreement Tuesday on a technical system for policing any test suspension. This agreement was reached in seven weeks of talks in Geneva, Switzerland.

Plan Hearing on Minimum Wages In Eating Houses

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—The Restaurant, Hotel and Motel Minimum Wage Board will hold hearings in Pittsburgh Friday and Philadelphia Tuesday after which it will make recommendations to the State Department of Labor and Industry.

The hearings will be the last two in a series of four. The board is taking testimony and will report to the department its findings on minimum wages for women and children in the restaurant, hotel and motel businesses.

At a hearing in Erie Wednesday, Dr. Anthony J. Bryski, director of research and statistics in the State Department of Labor and Industry, testified that a woman living alone in the Erie area needs a minimum of $2,800 yearly to maintain proper living standards.

A survey made under his direction, Dr. Bryski said, indicated that a woman living at home would need a minimum annual wage of $2,588 for adequate subsistence.

Fire Alarm Interrupts Speech of Candidate

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—State Sen. Charles Bennett interrupted a campaign speech to shout: "This house is on fire!"

Soon three companies of firemen were searching the house for the origin of smoke. A burning roll of toilet paper was found, believed set afire by children.

Bennett, throughout the commotion, passed out campaign buttons and cards to firemen and onlookers alike.

Military Court In Jordan Dooms Arabs for Plot

By REINHOLD ENSZ

AMMAN (AP)—A Jordanian military court today convicted five young Arabs of exploding bombs in Amman and sentenced two of them to death.

One of the defendants was a 19-year-old girl, Nadia Salti. She got a 7½-year sentence which was immediately commuted to three years.

The death sentences were decreed for Miss Salti's 22-year-old fiancé, Theodore Stephan; and Ahmed Mahmoud Ibrahim, 22, an employee of the Jordanian Health Department who was charged with leading the group.

Basil Hamati, 24, a photographer for the U.N. relief agency, was sentenced to 15 years. He was accused of smuggling explosives into Jordan on U.N. planes. A fifth defendant, Hamed Tewfik (Turn to Page Nineteen)

Round-the-Clock Tests On Rocket Engine Halt

DENVILLE, N. J. (AP)—Reaction Motors Inc. has bowed to complaints by local residents and halted round-the-clock tests on a rocket engine designed for the first manned space vehicle.

Some 150 residents of the Hibernia and Lake Telemark areas petitioned the company, saying they did not want to appear unpatriotic but complaining the noise and vibration caused physical discomfort and property damage.

Reaction Motors agreed to restrict major tests on the engine, the X15, to the hours from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Unidentified Jet Turns Out To Be Friendly T33 Trainer

GRANDVIEW, Mo. (AP)—High over western Missouri a jet plane streaked northward toward Kansas Wednesday. It was unidentified, and thus presumed by the Air Force to be an enemy.

At Richards-Gebaur AFB here on the southern outskirts of Kansas City, a sleek F102A jet took off to intercept the intruder.

Within minutes, 1st Lt. Roland Svane, 26, Seattle, and his interceptor sighted the aggressor aircraft at 41,000 feet.

Svane attacked. Three Falcon air-to-air missiles shot from the interceptor toward the target. One of them hit the tail of the plane, and the jet headed earthward. Its two crewmen bailed out.

UNITED NATION, N. Y.

—The Arab countries, including pro-Western Lebanon and Jordan, today gave their final approval to Middle East peace formula expected to bring a quick end to the emergency session of the U. N. General Assembly. The plan, agreed on tentatively Wednesday in a rare demonstration of Arab harmony, appeared headed for unanimous adoption in the 81-nation Assembly. The heads of the 10 Arab delegations agreed at a private meeting this morning to submit the four-point resolution endorsed by their governments in overnight consultations.

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)

—The U. N. General Assembly headed today toward a quick end to its emergency session after formulations of a four-point Arab plan to bring peace to the Middle East.

Western diplomats predicted unanimous support of the 81 Assembly members for the resolution drawn up Wednesday night in a rare show of unanimity by the 10 Arab nations in the U. N.

The plan was an Arab modification of a Western-backed Norwegian resolution now pending before the Assembly, and both contained key points suggested by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and President Eisenhower. But the Arab resolution shied away from specific endorsement of earlier proposals for either a U. N. police force or more U. N. observers in the Middle East.

Reciprocal Trade Program Is Given Four More Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has signed legislation giving the reciprocal trade program four more years of life. It is the longest extension ever granted by Congress.

The administration had requested a five-year extension, but Eisenhower made it clear in signing the bill Wednesday that he was quite happy with what Congress provided.

Eisenhower said, the free nations, "are now assured of a continuity in United States trade policy that will make possible new international negotiations to promote mutually advantageous commercial exchange and increased world productivity."

The four-year extension of the 24-year-old program is expected to give the government sufficient power to deal with future trade problems arising from the new European Common Market.

This is a union of France, Italy, West Germany and the Benelux countries in a common market embracing some 160 million consumers.

Besides giving authority for the program to operate through June 30, 1962, the legislation provides additional powers to cut tariffs 20 per cent in return for like concessions from other nations.

Unidentified Jet Turns Out To Be Friendly T33 Trainer

Unfortunately, the enemy was a T33 Air Force trainer and Svane's attack was a routine practice maneuver. Routine, that is, until the three missiles, which automatically seek their targets and explode if they miss, were discharged.

The trainer's crew, 1st Lt. John D. Rice, 27, Sacramento, Calif., and 1st Lt. Raymond Zuhars Jr., 26, Evansville, Ind., escaped with cuts and bruises. They landed on a farm near Clinton Mo.

Svane declined comment when asked what caused the Falcons to fire. Rice and Zuhars, who are being treated at Richards-Gebaur Hospital, were equally reticent. Air Force officials said they are investigating.

Dragon Grid Prospect Fractures Right Leg

Ralph Veights lost one of his best prospects as a Dragon and this season, when Richard Fowler, 116 Cornwango avenue, fell from a horse last evening and fractured his right leg. Veights had planned to use Fowler as he was shaping up "into pretty good form." He would have been a right end. The fracture will remove Fowler from all action on the grid-iron this year.

Dick was riding at North Warren at the time. It is not certain whether the accident will hamper his opportunities to play varsity basketball this season, or not.

VIENNA COUP USES GOOD, OLD SQUEEZE

The Vienna Coup was supposedly first used in Vienna in the 19th century. The game was Whist, but the theory of the — is still the same.

The first stage of the Vienna Coup is to establish a good card in the hand of the victim. The second is to squeeze him with it.

West took the king and queen of spades and shifted to the queen of diamonds. As usual in squeeze situations South could count 10 tricks but needed 11.

West was marked with the jack of diamonds and almost surely with the king of hearts so the squeeze had to be against him. If South simply ran out dummy's trump suit he would have to discard before West and would not be able to hold on to his threat cards so the Vienna Coup became necessary.

After drawing a couple of rounds of trumps he cashed his rest of the trump suit. He was able to discard his three low hearts on dummy's clubs but see what happened to West.

He had to hold on to that king of hearts and eventually was forced to unguard the jack of diamonds whereupon South's king and ten of diamonds were good for the last two tricks.

LAWRENCE

COUDERSPORT, Pa. (AP)

David L. Lawrence, Pittsburgh mayor and Democratic candidate for governor, began his campaign here with a call for equal emphasis on agricultural development in the state.

"We are placing a proper emphasis on industrial development because it means more jobs and rising income level for our people," he said Wednesday in his opening campaign speech, adding:

"I believe we must have an equal emphasis on agricultural development because it too means a rising income level and a higher standard of living."

If elected governor, Lawrence promised that he would "dedicate myself to the broad interests of the state, working to solve our common problems in a great united drive for Pennsylvania's better future."

McGONIGLE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Arthur T. McGonigle, Republican candidate for governor, said today young people in Pennsylvania are taking an increasing interest in government.

"In my travels, I have been gratified to note a rising tide of interest in politics on the part of young men and women," McGonigle told members of the Philadelphia Junior Chamber of Commerce.

There are many GOP county chairmen in the state who are in their early thirties, he said, and several Republican legislators in the General Assembly are young men.

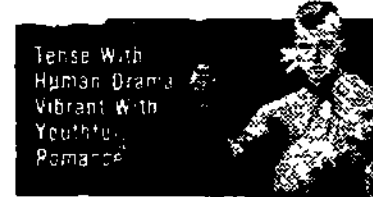

McGonigle asked the Jaycees to "pursue one-man crusades to get your friends and neighbors to register. No matter what your political affiliation, talk up registration as the American passport to political freedom."

Minneapolis May Be On Threshold of Major Baseball

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minneapolis is on the threshold of obtaining a major league baseball franchise, the city's No. 1 big league negotiator told the City Council Tuesday.

Gerald Moore, chairman of the Metropolitan Sports Arena Commission, set the first week of September as a possible target date for signing of a contract with an as yet unnamed club.

Moore previously has said Minneapolis right now has no definite commitment from a big league team.

The commission has been negotiating with the Washington Senators for more than a year. There also has been speculation that the Cleveland Indians are considering a move here.

At a recent American League club owners meeting, the Senators were denied permission to move their franchise.

Moore came before the Council to seek approval of a nine-million-dollar plan for expansion of Metropolitan Stadium to meet seating needs if the city lands a big league club.

A public hearing was scheduled for next Monday on Moore's proposal. The Council plans to act on it Aug. 29.

Gavin Submits More Information On Erie Hospital

to VA HOSPITAL AT ERIE
Congressman Gavin stated today that in view of recent newspaper stories concerning meetings of representatives of veterans organizations to protest the alleged closing of the Erie Veterans Administration Hospital, he thought all concerned should know that the Veterans Administration does NOT plan on closing this facility.

Immediately upon hearing these rumors, Congressman Gavin contacted the Veterans Administration, and in a letter to the Congressmen, the Deputy Chief Medical Director of the Veterans Administration stated: "We have no plans to close the hospital at Erie but expect to utilize it within its full mission of 160 average daily patient load for the current fiscal year. Thank you for giving us the opportunity to dispel this unfounded rumor."

Mr. Gavin said the House Committee on Veterans Affairs also informed him that the closing of the Erie VA Hospital has never been considered.

Stories on the closing of the hospital, the Congressman stated, arose from the fact that individuals have expressed their personal opinions at recent hearings held by the Veterans Affairs Committee but at no time has an official of the Veterans Administration or a member of the Veterans Affairs Committee recommended that this facility be closed, and it is expected that it will be utilized to its full capacity.

Mr. Gavin further stated that such rumors gave him great concern as they cause needless anxiety and hoped that in the future it would not be necessary to again dispel unfounded rumors.

of giving insufficient attention to segregating military training flights at Nellis Air Force Base from other traffic on an established airway.

The CAB said the increase in speed and traffic density made it harder to give pilots sufficient opportunity to spot each other during flights.

Therefore, the report said, "It is essential that positive control be extended to altitudes as high as 35,000 feet and on additional routes as rapidly as practical."

The report added, however, that visual flight rules should not be discarded entirely.

C. A. B. Offers Recommendation For Air Safety

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board says air traffic control regulations must be extended up to 35,000 feet and encompass additional American routes.

At present, such control applies only to certain transcontinental routes between 17,000 and 22,000 feet.

The CAB's recommendation was contained in a report on the collision of a United Airlines DC7 and a jet fighter last April 21 near Las Vegas, Nev. Forty-nine persons were killed.

The report said the Air Force and the Civil Aeronautics Administration must share part of the blame for the collision, which occurred at 21,000 feet. The CAB said the accident was probably caused by the high speed of the planes and the lack of an adequate view from the pilots' cockpits.

The CAA was criticized for poor judgment in not taking steps to reduce the chances of collision in the area where a number of near misses had been reported.

The Air Force was accused

Befuddled Drake Is in Love With Ceramic Duck

EAST ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—The love affair of Charlie, the befuddled drake who is enamored of an enameled duck, may end in a custody battle.

Two owners today claimed they own Charlie, the persistent but near-sighted drake who's been trying since Sunday to pitch woo to a ceramic duck on the front lawn of the William Alwells.

Howard Mason, 14, broke up the one-way romance Tuesday when he claimed Charlie was his and had broken loose over the weekend. He snatched Charlie away, the bird quacking loudly all the way down the street. His darling, her three little ceramic ducklings long since toppled over by Charlie's amorous advances, kept her glazed eyes front.

Then along came Miss Helen Mameo who said Charlie had escaped from her. She threatened a custody battle in court.

Dr. David C. Tudor, a poultry pathology expert at Rutgers University, said Charlie may have an adoption complex and found an outlet in the clay duck.

Dr. James Westman, head of the Rutgers wildlife conservation department, said Charlie either has a complex "or he's a very stupid duck."

Not so, said Miss Mameo. "Charlie's not nuts, he's just lonely."

AUTUMN SIGNALS

An editorial from the New York Times:
It's just past mid-August, but autumn is already setting its signals. And those who insisted a few weeks ago that the katydid was talking about an early frost this year could be right. Mid-August always brings some hint of October ahead, but the signs seem more pronounced this year than usual.

Goldenrod begins to mass its color along the country roadsides. Here and there a branch of sumac flares crimson. Sumac, though, sometimes begins to blush by mid-July, so this is not unusual. The milkweed pods are fat and silvery. Another month and they will ripen and burst open and sow the wind with floss-borne seed. Ironwood and joe-pye weed flaunt their various purples and magentas in moist places here and there.

Queen Anne's lace begins to look weary, though it still whitens the edges of many meadows. The daisies are largely finished with their blossoming. Chickory reflects the sky's blue in many places; but chickory did better last summer, in the drought, than in this year's abundant moisture. The big thistles hold high their lavender heads, hurrying toward the airy ripeness that so delights the goldfinches in September. Vervain makes purple patches of the bogland, but it too is looking a little tired and summer-worn.

The trees haven't yet achieved the dusty, tired look that comes by snow in a dry season, but they are reaching toward September. Here and there an elm or a birch shows a few sere leaves, though the full color is still six or eight weeks ahead, in October. It's still August, but August on the downhill side. Summer begins to look a little shopworn. No mistaking it now.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor reform—and what Congress failed to do about it—is now a full-blown campaign issue in the 1958 congressional elections.

Democrats and Republicans will blame each other for what didn't come to pass. But the fact is neither side looks pretty in this one.

President Eisenhower has already rushed to the defense of his Republicans with a statement Wednesday. This is how it started and ended:

Last January Eisenhower proposed—as a result of disclosures by the Senate Rackets Committee—a 12-point labor reform program.

The Democratic-run Senate on June 17 passed its own bill which fell short of all Eisenhower wanted. It was sponsored by Senators Irving M. Ives (R-NY) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass).

Republicans and Democrats teamed up to shove it through 88-1.

This bill sought to throttle racketeering by both unions and employers. It would have required detailed reports on union affairs and funds, along with reports by employers on how much money they spent on labor relations activities.

Further, it would have barred convicted crooks from holding union office, required secret ballot union elections for limited terms, and let union members sue to recover stolen union funds or property. And it would have made management representatives take a non-Communist oath, just as union leaders have to do.

Then the bill went over to the Democratic-run House. There the leader of the House Democrats, Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, bottled it up 41 days by keeping it on his desk. He finally sent it to the House Labor Committee for consideration July 29. Why the delay?

He explained: He didn't want to get it entangled with another piece of labor legislation the Labor Committee was considering.

But the House Labor Committee is run by Democrats. They didn't want any part of the Ives-Kennedy bill. In fact 16 of them, joined by six Republicans, voted against even considering the bill. The committee also voted against considering a Republican-backed substitute.

Finally, the bill was yanked out of the committee's hands and thrown before the full House for action. Under the special procedure used, the bill couldn't be amended. It also required a two-thirds vote for passage.

But then the Republicans got in their licks. They closed ranks to kill the bill on the floor. A big majority of them, joined by some Democrats, voted to kill the bill. It was killed.

Yet a big majority of Democrats on the floor voted for the party since an overwhelming number of Democrats in the Labor Committee had voted against ever letting the bill see the light of day.

Sen. Ives was incensed at what happened in the House. He said he was ashamed of it. But he also said: "A lot of House members were misled by false propaganda by the National Assn. of Manufacturers, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the Teamsters, and the United Mine Workers. Can you imagine a more unholy alliance?"

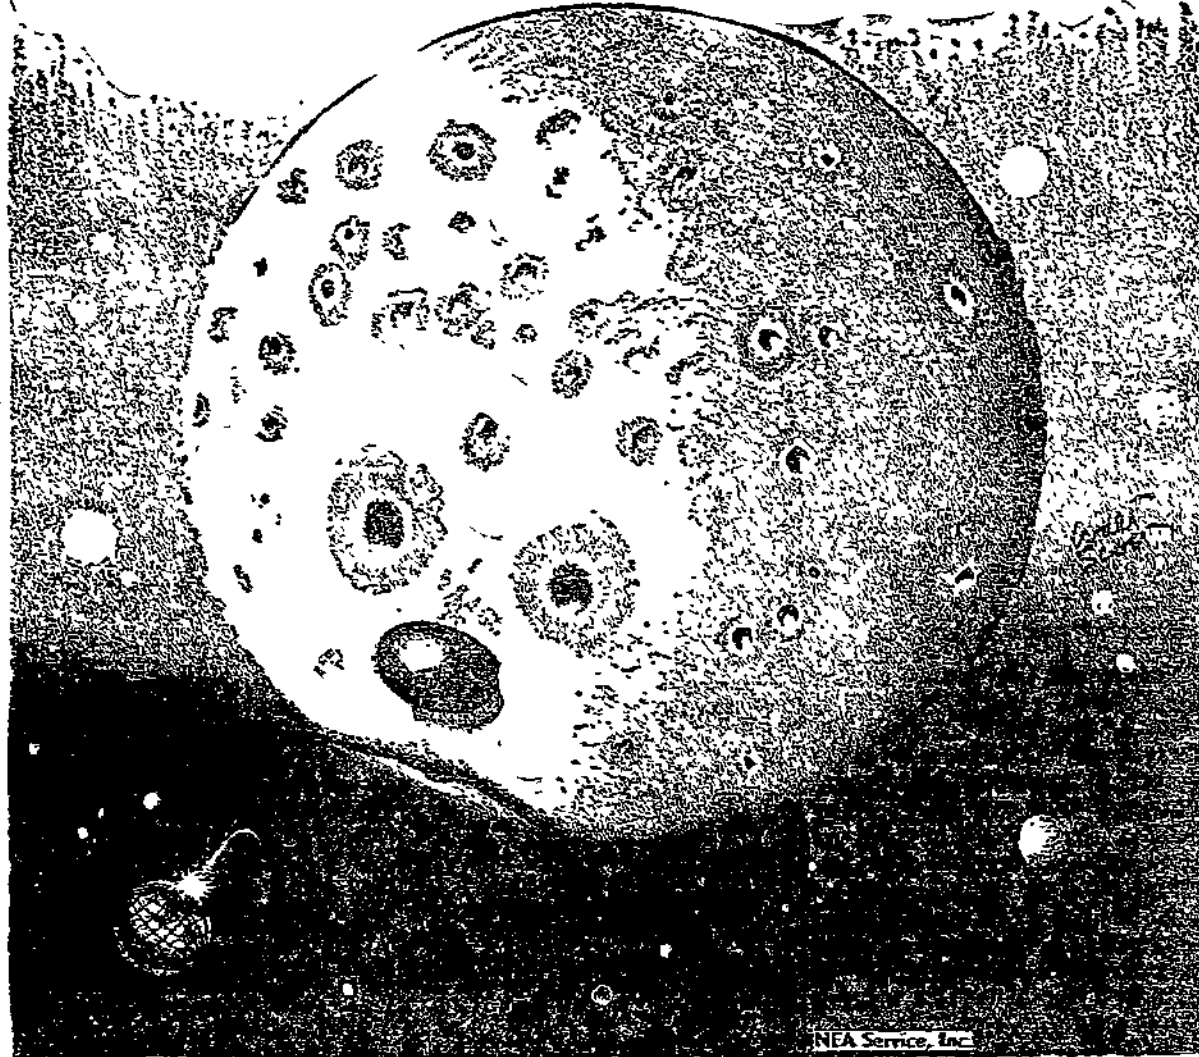

Kennedy also struck out at the NAM. That organization's president, Milton C. Lightner, said it was true his organization had opposed the bill but he denied NAM pressure killed it.

So everything was confused but warming up for a who-struck-whom fight in the campaign when Eisenhower issued a statement Wednesday. He was highly critical of the Ives-Kennedy bill—although his Senate Republicans had voted overwhelmingly for it. He objected

Here and There

President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth II exchanged greetings the other day, in observance of the 100th anniversary of the laying of the first transatlantic cable. It was on August 16, 1858, that similar messages were relayed between James Buchanan and Queen Victoria. The President noted that "the development of international communications has brought the people of the world in a close neighborhood," and expressed the hope that they will serve increasingly as carriers of the message of peace. One hundred years, and how many messages of war have been sent across the Atlantic in that time? To many, it will seem that the development of ever more rapid means of communication and transportation has, more than anything, made peace more precarious and war more devastating. But we will leave it to writers on August 16, 2058—if they are around yet—to decide whether the whole thing was worth while.

According to the Titusville Herald officials of the 1958 Oil Festival, sponsored annually by the Bruce Shorts Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, have announced the schedule of events for the 99th annual celebration which will start next Wednesday, Aug. 27. The festivities will get under way at 7 p. m. with the crowning of the 1958 Oil Queen. The ceremony will take place at Carter Field. The coronation will be followed at 8:30 p. m. by a dance at Loblaw's parking lot, the orchestra for which will be furnished through the courtesy of the American Federation of Musicians local in this district. Thursday, Aug. 28, will be Kiddies' Day, with a parade and contests for the young set at the VFW ball field. A lawn social at the YWCA will be the highlight of the Oil Festival program on Friday, Aug. 29. A band concert by the Franklin City Band also will be held at the Titusville High School parking lot that day.

The annual Oil Festival Parade will start at 6:30 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 30. The parade route will be announced later. The celebration will be concluded with a fireworks display at 9:30 p. m. Saturday. Applications for entering the Oil Queen contest may be obtained at The Herald office.

You'd have to travel pretty far to find someone who doesn't enjoy a meal that includes home-cured bacon or sausage. But these days it's hard to find a butcher who sells real, old-fashioned, home-cured meat. For anyone who'd like to learn to slaughter, dress and cure meat, Penn State livestock specialists have prepared a home study course of nine lessons, titled "Dressing and Curing Meats." The lessons include instruction on dressing and cutting the carcass, the location of different cuts and their preparation for the table. In addition, lessons explain the most approved methods of curing and handling different kinds of meat for future use. The making of meat products, such as the common kinds of sausage, scrapple, liverwurst, etc., is fully described. To obtain the complete course send $2.25 to Farm Study Courses, Pennsylvania State University, University Park. The nominal charge is made to cover the cost of lesson preparation, expert grading and correction of lesson papers, and postage. Make checks or money order payable to The Pennsylvania State University. A free bulletin, which describes the 64 courses in agriculture and home economics subjects offered by Penn State, will be sent on request.

The first modern scientific highway construction was begun in France in 1764 by Pierre Tresaguet. His roads were made of a base layer of large stones covered with a thin layer of smaller stones. In England, about 1805, Thomas Telford designed a road similar to that of Tresaguet except that he used a thicker layer of smaller broken stones laid with a curved surface to allow water to run off.

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 12 million of inflation's worst victims are in line today for a little relief.

If President Eisenhower signs the social security bill into law, Uncle Sam will hand out about one billion dollars more next year to 12 million beneficiaries.

He will collect a little more than one billion dollars additional through higher taxes. Half the increase will be paid by the 75 million whose pay checks are docked for social security taxes, and the other half by their employers.

The increased benefits are designed to make up for some of the ravages of past inflation on the fixed incomes of the retired.

If new inflation pops up, as many in Washington fear, the battle will start all over again. The big rise in the cost of living since the war has cramped persons beyond their earning means. They have found the nest egg they once thought ostrich size has shrunk to pigeon size.

The new benefits and the new taxes will still leave the social security system running in the red, as it started to do for the first time in the past year.

This year it is paying out nearly 8½ billion dollars in benefits and it is taking in 7½ billion dollars in taxes on the employed and their employers. Next year under the new bill payments would rise to 9½ billion and collections to a bit more than 8 billion.

The system has a large reserve fund on which to draw. But taxes will have to go up steadily from year to year if the higher payments are to be made and the reserve saved from too much drainage. Sponsors of the new bill say it should bring the social security fund into balance within a few more years as the tax rates rise.

Prepared by Pennsylvania Game Commission

Game Rood Reports

Encouraging reports about natural foods for game have come from Game Commission personnel almost everywhere in the Commonwealth. Here are some typical observations:

Game Protector Keith Hinman, Tioga County: "There seems to be a bumper crop of all game foods this year. An excellent nut crop is in prospect and apples are plentiful."

Game Protector Joseph Kistner, Centre County: "Throughout my district natural foods for wildlife are in the best supply in years. There is a good berry crop, acorn prospects are fine and wild and tame apples are plentiful."

Clifford Ruth, a Land Group Manager in southwestern Pennsylvania, reports, "There appears to be a bumper crop of food for wildlife this year. This is especially apparent on State Game Lands in Armstrong, Indiana and Cambria Counties." Game Protector Rozell Stidd says, "In Potter County about half the beech trees of any size are so loaded with nuts some of the branches are drooping. We will have some wild cherries but late frosts caused many of them to fall off while green. June berries and blackberries are a good crop, and we have a fair amount of wild apples and hornbeam seeds."

Nicholas Ruha, a Land Group Manager in the southcentral counties, was highly pleased with his observations. He reports, "The amount of food present in forest and field this summer is little short of fantastic. Trees, shrubs and vines seem to be overloaded with fruit."

Sunday Hunting

The woodchuck (groundhog) is classified in Pennsylvania as a game animal. The Game Laws specify that no game bird or animal may be hunted in the Commonwealth on Sunday.

This information is repeated as a service to persons who claim, after being apprehended, they did not know that hunting chuck on the Sabbath is unlawful.

In Pennsylvania the raccoon is another game animal on which there is presently no close season but on which, also, the law forbids Sunday hunting. Fatally Shoots Companion

Two men living near Oglerville, Adams County, Pennsylvania, unlawfully hunted wild game Sunday afternoon, August 3. One of them shot and mortally wounded his 30-year-old companion, Robert M. Powell, in mistake for game after about 90 minutes afield. The offender, Howard H. Sandoe, 27, claims 15 years of hunting experience. Later, he pleaded guilty to the charge of "killing a human being in mistake for game." He is at liberty on $1,500 bail awaiting sentence by the Adams County Court in September. Quickstep to Buzz Music

Early in August, Game Protector Norman Erickson was on patrol along the Clear Creek section of Cameron County when he noticed a brood of young wild turkeys quite a distance away.

The officer reports: "I drove my jeep about 50 yards off the road for a closer look and bird count. Stopping the car I went hurriedly around the back of it, my attention entirely on the turkey brood. But not for long. Somehow I took wing because of a familiar feeling under my feet. Yes, it was a 'bell bird'. Now my attention was strictly on the yellow rattle I had used as a stepping stone. Though I took some quick steps backward the four-foot snake was not at all satisfied. He came right at-

"I have taken thousands of rattlesnakes in my time, but this was one of only three times in my experience that a rattler chased me."

Black Bear's Weight

The fact that many people generously "guesstimate" the weight of big game animals was demonstrated to the satisfaction of Game Protector Servey at the Clearfield County Fair late in July.

Said the officer, "The Old Town Sportsmen's Club of Clearfield County displayed a live black bear at the fair as the subject of a weight guessing contest through which the members raised funds for next winter's game feeding expenses. The highest weight guessed was a ponderous 1,650 pounds. Many persons said the animal weighed in the neighborhood of 700 pounds. The bear actually tipped the beam at 320½ pounds."

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The other afternoon Ike took his grandson David out to Burning Tree Country Club to play golf and the whole outfit ended up with ruffled feelings.

First David became absorbed in driving the golf cart and began coveting the thing all over the fairways. David was in a mood to frolic and was hitting the ball all over the place. The President, on the other hand, was hitting the ball exceptionally well and was obviously getting more annoyed by the minute with David's dalliance.

At the end of the first nine grandfather Ike exploded and told David he wasn't going to play with him anymore. He got Burning Tree pro, Max Elbin, and asked Max to give David some lessons.

GEORGE V. ALLEN, boss of the United States Information Agency, claims that he's going to set some kind of a record for receiving education honors in October.

Within one week he's getting an honorary doctor's degree from Georgetown University here and one from Wagner College on Staten Island, N.Y. He says:

"Of course I'm paying for them by making a speech at each presentation. But I haven't decided whether this is an inflationary or deflationary price."

She refused his request but she thinks everything will turn out all right.

She's also relieved because she finally won her big union fight. Her district is loaded with onion growers who have been harassed over the years by the big city union speculators. But she has beaten this with a bill which will take onions out from under futures trading.

"Now," she says triumphantly, "we're all racing like horses headed back to the stable."

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (4)—Rocket Pioneers

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

(1) The story of space now turns to rockets. Known to the Chinese possibly as early as the 7th century, by the 13th they were employing them as weapons. In Europe, however, rockets were merely used as fireworks until the late 18th century. Then the Englishman William Congreve developed an artillery rocket. During the Napoleonic Wars military rockets reached a high point, then fell into disuse. The "rockets" red glare" seen by Francis Scott Key during the bombardment of Ft. Mifflin in 1814 were Congreve rockets.

(2) Space travel was an old dream, and the wisest men knew that rockets offered the only practical form of propulsion. But not until the 1890s was any serious mathematical work done, when the Russian Konstantin Ziolkovsky first advocated liquid-fueled rockets. He also studied the problems of keeping men alive in space.

(3) In America, Prof. Robert H. Goddard built rockets to probe the upper atmosphere. He was the first to test rocket theories in the workshop.

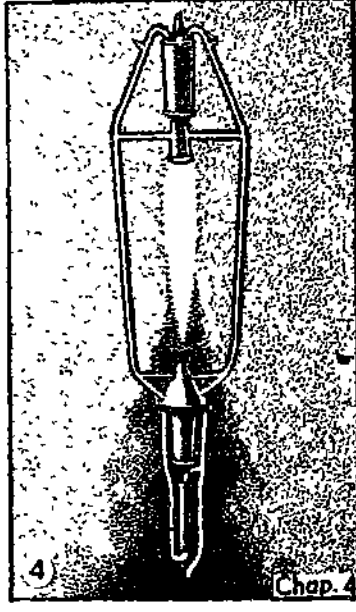

(4) Like Ziolkovsky, Goddard arrived at the conclusion that—at that time—liquid rockets were the best source of power. In 1926 he launched the world's first liquid-fueled rocket. Its two-foot-long motor burned for two and a half seconds. The rocket covered a distance of 184 feet at about 60 miles an hour. It has been likened to the Wright brothers' first airplane flight.

In Germany about the same time, the Hungarian-born Hermann Oberth had also hit upon some of the same rocket ideas. His writings sparked the formation of amateur rocket clubs throughout Europe. From one of them, the German Society for Space Travel, was to come the builder of the famous V-2.

MRS. EDWARD O. COLLINS

Mission Covenant church at Sugar Grove was the scene of a lovely wedding at 7:30 p. m. August 16 when, in the presence of 125 guests, Grace Agnes Swanson, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. O. R. Swanson, Sugar Grove, became the bride of Edward Orville Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Collins, 591 Bolivar drive, Bradford.

Norma Sponsler Hostess at Reunion Of Former FHA Members - Advisors

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Sponsler, 25 Orchard street, was the scene of a happy reunion during the past week-end. Those attending were former members of the Future Homemakers of America.

The girls had all attended the 1958 National FHA convention in Chicago and three of those attending were officers of the state organization in 1956-57. Their hostess was Norma Sponsler, now majoring in food chemistry at The Pennsylvania State University.

Others in town for the week-end reunion were Janet Grube, Norma's roommate from Punxsutawney, who is majoring in home economics education and extension; Faylene Kallally and Betty Ketchum, both from Hills Grove, Pa., and now training at Williamsport Hospital; Nancy Philson, Meyersdale, Pa., who will enter Indiana State Teachers' College in January to major in home economics education; Polly Richards, Covington, Pa., and Helen Snyder, Forkville, Pa., both attending Mansfield State Teachers' College and majoring in home economics education.

Although only seven girls were able to attend, Miss Sponsler had invited 20 girls, along with nine advisors. Many could not be present because of work or other vacation plans, but the most unique answer came from one of the girls who replied, "... my husband doesn't like the idea of staying home alone."

Summer Wears Out About A Month Before It's Over

The trouble with summer is it always lasts about a month too long.

Before summer is over the children are bored with their freedom and mom is counting the days until school will again put some routine into their lives.

Before summer is gone, gardening has lost its magic. In place of the joy of planting and watching things grow and blossom, there is the endless drudgery of watering, spraying, watering, spraying, and struggling just to keep plants alive and grass green.

Before the end of summer a woman's wardrobe begins to look bedraggled and there is that depressing period when it is too early to wear fall clothes and too late to find any good-looking summer additions to her wardrobe.

Long before summer is over, heat begins to wear on the nerves, tempers grow short. People begin to think and say, "It's just too hot to bother." It is as though everyone was marking time until the first fall days appear.

Before summer is over the vacation trip is gone and almost forgotten. The "wonderful rest" is used up.

Before summer is over, the absence of vacationing friends begins to make one feel lonely. The gay postcards they send back only heighten the feeling that "everyone has gone somewhere."

Summer sports begin to lose their charm. Even the children show little enthusiasm for family outings.

Summer would be a wonderful time if it just didn't last quite so long. By August first almost everybody is ready for a change.

You Can Broaden Usefulness, Appearance, of Bath

BY KAT SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Imaginative designers are encouraging homemakers to take as much interest in bathroom planning and equipment as they do in kitchen planning.

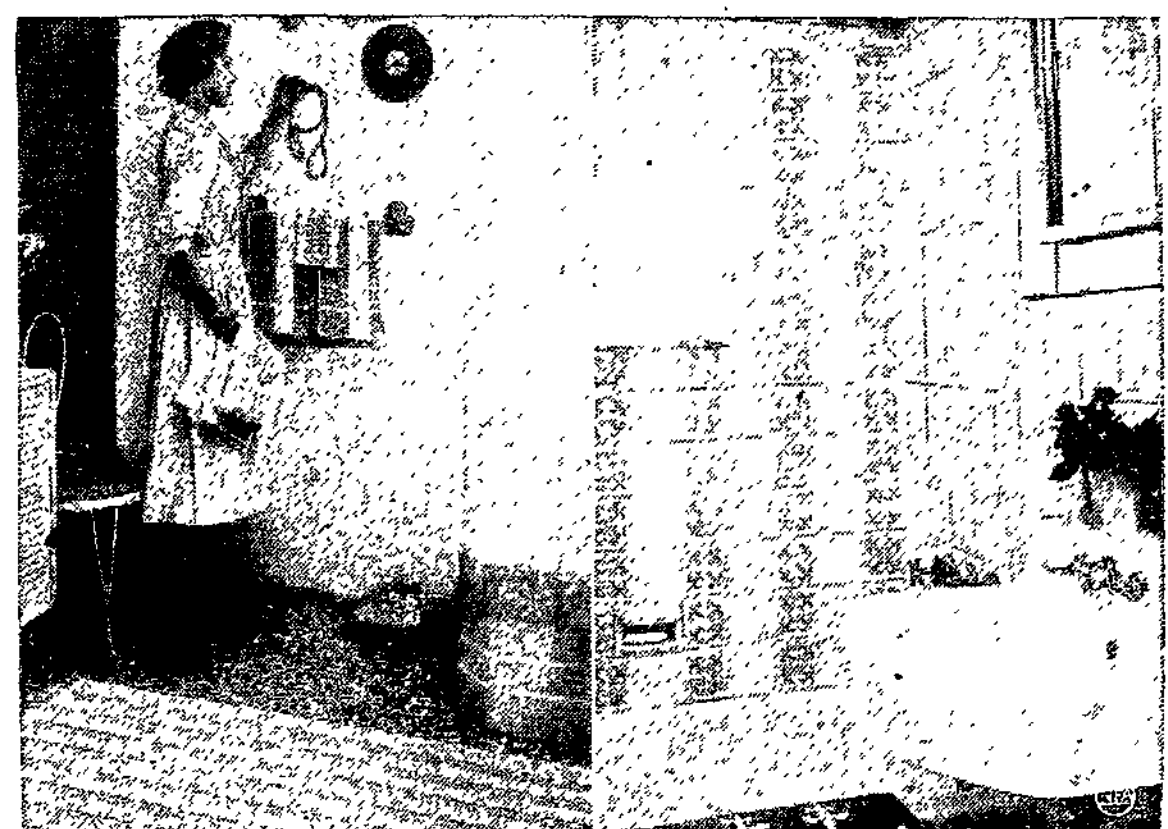

The inclusion of automatic laundry equipment in the bathroom, an idea advocated by home economists as a time and labor saver, is being accepted in new homes and in remodeling plans. It's not unusual to find the washer-dryer installed adjacent to the bathroom-bedroom line-up where most of the laundry is handled.

Granted that the elegant bath is a far-away dream for most of us, ideas can be adapted on a more modest basis.

FOR EXAMPLE: generously sized bathrooms can be utilized as miniature gyms. You are much more likely, I think, to swing through the boring but good-for-you calisthenics in the privacy of a bathroom with the promise of a warm bath or shower as a reward.

About all one needs to add is a clock to keep you to the time schedule, scales to remind you why you're exercising and a good, nonskid rug to insulate you from the cold, hard floor. Simple props such as elastic exercise ropes can be kept handy to make the routine more interesting.

John and Earline Brice, the noted designing team, worked out some model bathrooms for a plumbing equipment manufacturer.

Your bath can become a "gym," left, if it's generous in size, has a good bath rug, such as one shown, of crimped rayon. Gadget on wall is an exercise rope. At right, styron wall tiles with an inlaid pattern make an older bathroom sparkle.

This has the effect of recessing the basin and creating a niche for an impressive shelf-and-mirror arrangement. Bars on the outside of the closet doors hold towels.

In another, free space on either side of a toilet is made useful with shallow cabinets which have sliding wire mesh or cane doors.

They have a bold-way with color which gives conventional bathrooms a dashing-modern look. Clear red vinyl tile floors team with pale pink plastic tile walls.

Extra-large tile are used for walls for eye-catching effect. The effect is toned down with gray accessories and four moistureproof wallpaper panels outlining the recessed tub. Paper is in a white grillework pattern on pale gray.

Another fresh-looking color scheme starts with fixtures in fern green and uses primrose yellow wall tiles and citron yellow floor tiles striped in white.

GIVING OLD BATHROOMS a new face without spending too much money is not the trick it used to be, even where walls are plastic-tiled.

New, inlaid plastic wall tiles which come in four patterns and sixteen color combinations can be substituted for some of the old tiles.

In one installation, the owners of an all-white tiled bathroom, tired of the antiseptic look, chose inlaid tiles with a blue fleur-de-lis design.

They striped the wall around the tub with rows of them after removing old tiles with a chisel. Other walls were left plain white, but new bathmats and towels in a matching blue-and-white fleur-de-lis pattern underline the new look.

Polish Skipper Recalls Eisler's Escape in 1949

By MARK SHEEHAN

CLIFTON, N. J. (AP) — Jan Cwiklinski has no regrets. Ten years ago he was captain of the Polish transatlantic liner Batory.

Today he works 16 hours a day in a roadside ice cream stand.

"I need a piece of bread," he says. "So I sell ice cream to get it. In Poland, when there is a knock on the door, you don't know if it is the milkman with the milk or the security police come to take you to jail. Here I am a free man, I work hard, but I sleep."

Nine years ago, when the Batory was docked in New York, Gerhart Eisler, reportedly America's top Communist, came aboard as a sightseer and stowed away in the laundry.

Eisler was free on bail after his conviction on perjury charges in connection with a passport declaration.

When Eisler presented himself at sea, the captain knew there would be trouble. He radioed New York and Warsaw as well as the ship's destination, London, informing authorities Eisler was aboard.

The United States wanted Eisler returned, Poland wanted him brought back to Communist territory. Capt. Cwiklinski turned the matter over to the Polish consul at London.

The consul refused to surrender Eisler, but Scotland Yard men boarded the ship and carried him off.

After that the Batory was barred from ports in the United States.

Capt. Cwiklinski fled the ship in London in 1953. He worked for Radio Free Europe, and wrote a book, "The Captain Leaves His Ship."

He came to the United States in 1954. He saw a newspaper advertisement offering to sell ice cream stand franchises, and he bought one. He had money from the sale of his book and television rights to his story.

He says the work is harder than that of a ship captain, but it pays better too. As captain of the Batory, one of Poland's two transatlantic liners, he was paid only the equivalent of $65 a month.

The 51-year-old captain speaks English well. It is one of seven languages he knows.

The captain has a wife and two children in Poland. His daughter is 22, and attends a university. His son is 12. The Communists once took their house away but returned it.

He communicates with his family indirectly, and rarely, because he is an unpopular man in Poland. His wife is working, and he sends parcels—bolls of cloth and things like that, things she can sell.

Butler County Dam for Recreational Purposes

HARRISBURG (AP)—The first concrete steps have been taken toward eventual construction of a dam in Butler County that will provide the largest state-owned body of water for recreation and conservation in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, forests and waters secretary, said an intensive department study for the last six months pointed to Pottersville as the site for damming Muddy Creek to provide the man-made lake.

"If we can get enough money to swing this operation I am sure this will result in the largest state-owned body of water contained in Pennsylvania," said Goddard.

County Probation Society Receives Check for $321.84

The following news release has been received in connection with receipt by the County Commissioners of a check for $321.84 payable to the Warren County Probation Association, sponsored by the Rotary Club:

This check of the Warren County Probation Association for $321.84, payable to the Commissioners of Warren County, represents continued progress of the Association in fulfilling its primary purpose of helping to improve the probation system for juveniles in Warren County.

Sponsored by the Warren Rotary Club and chartered in 1954 as a non-profit corporation, the Warren County Probation Association won the Community Service Award at the Rotary District Conference the following year. Through campaigns put on each year by the members of the Warren Rotary Club, the Probation Association has added to its Permanent Endowment Fund. This fund is held and kept invested for the Association by the Warren Foundation Inc. which returns the income of between 3 and 4% periodically. The Association then delivers the income to Warren County to help pay the expenses of the County Probation Officer for Boys.

The present donation is the income earned by the Permanent Endowment Fund for the period from August 1, 1957 to January 31, 1958. Since that date monies donated in the 1957 campaign, which started last November, has been added to the fund and the balance is now $20,506.53.

Long range future plans for the use of the Endowment Fund include the establishment of a county home or farm to be used in the place of commitments of certain juveniles to state training schools.

Those persons and organizations who make small gifts each year to add to the Permanent Endowment Fund, make these payments to the county possible. They furnish very practical evidence of public support for the County Commissioners in their effort to constantly improve the Juvenile Probation System.

Gifts to the fund are a good investment in the future of Warren County.

Hollywood News

By BOB THOMAS
A Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I never thought Hollywood would use me. There's no place out here for a fat girl. . . ."

"I can't stand the sunshine in California. It's so relentless. But it's good for you, I guess. Even the old ladies out here look better than I do. . . ."

This was Maureen Stapleton talking, and she was living up to her billing as the female Marlon Brando.

She is like the early Brando—before he became husband, father and film producer. She has a similar disdain for the niceties of attire ("I hate clothes"). She is unimpressed by herself. Hollywood protocol and nearly everything.

Also Brando-like: She is a great performer, universally admired by her fellow actors.

Dore Schary is the man who got her to do a movie. He and director Vincent Donahue sought her to "play the important role of an unhappy housewife in 'Lonelyhearts' with Montgomery Clift, Robert Ryan and Myrna Loy."

How was she landed? "Vinny called me up and asked me if I wanted to do it," she reported. "I loved the book and I liked the setup so I said yes."

Maureen has been called the American Magnani. She has originated two roles which have fallen Magnani in the movie versions—"The Rose Tattoo" and the forthcoming "Orpheus Descending."

She also did the stage original of "27 Wagons Full of Cotton," which turned up on the screen as "Baby Doll" and made a star of Carroll Baker.

She'll vanish back to her New York haunts and a fall play as soon as "Lonelyhearts" is finished.

Strike Idles Buses in The City of New Castle

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—City residents still remain without bus transportation today as the two-week strike of drivers against the Shenango Valley Transportation Co. continues.

A three-hour conference of company and union officials with Federal Mediator A. A. Desser of Pittsburgh and Mayor Edward A. DeCarbo ended in deadlock Wednesday.

The City, however, is making efforts to form a municipal authority to take over transportation.

Stuffed Animals Go at Bargain in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Ralph Simons' stuffed animals were selling like crazy. The trouble was he wasn't selling them.

Simons, a carnival concessionaire, was asleep at home during the sale Wednesday.

Youngsters found the animals in his parked car and promptly sold 30 of them. The hottest item appeared to be small pandas—going for 50 cents.

Simons later told police each doll, panda and teddy bear cost him $4.

"I'd buy them back at $2 each," he said, "no questions asked."

PACIFISTS FINED
CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Two pacifists received maximum fines Wednesday for attempting to halt construction of an Atlas missile launching installation near here.

Fines of $100 and costs were assessed against the Rev. Mr. Theodore Olson, 26, of Fallington, Pa., and Eleanor Calkins, 22, of Chicago by Justice of the Peace Tosh Suyematsu. They were charged with trespassing.

Discount Tile Towne Will Open for Business Friday; Prices Cut for the Volume

A tile discount center, which intends to undercut prices of first class merchandise in expectation of volume sales, opens its doors in Warren's downtown business district Friday.

Glenn Haight of 92 Flandry Lane, Pleasant Township, will be manager of Discount Tile Towne, Inc., located at 229 Pennsylvania avenue west, beside Busy Bee Restaurant.

The new tile center, third in a rapidly expanding chain to be opened in Western Pennsylvania in two months, is specializing in all equipment to be utilized in "do-it-yourself" tiling. Only products of such nationally known tile manufacturers as Johns-Manville, E. F. Goodrich, Armstrong, American and Goodyear rubber companies will be sold.

Free with each purchase for the cost-conscious home owner will be a towel to apply adhesive backing and an adequate cutter. More elaborate equipment for finer cutting will be available free for those making a deposit.

Discount Tile Towne also is offering to buy back any salable merchandise which the novice appraiser might purchase if he or she overestimates the job.

Working with Manager Haight for the first weeks will be District Manager Maurice Gordon who has re-emphasized the point that substantial savings are possible by volume sales. "Quality merchandise at a discount price," said Mr. Gordon, "is our business standard."

In altering the premises at 229 Pennsylvania avenue west, Tile Towne is placing samples of 64 varieties of wall tile patterns side by side on all available wall space. This expensive paneling will provide an immediate sampling of many lines ranging from the metallic steel, copper and chrome tiles for behind stoves to paisley, marble and stone effects.

At least 40 floor tile patterns will also be on sale at Discount Tile. Other merchandise items include carpet borders, step pads, linoleum rugs. Another line is an asphalt tile which no heat is needed to apply and which will never crack, even if the floor sags somewhat.

Warren Discount Tile Towne is the latest of a rapidly expanding chain which in the last two months has seen other outlets in Oil City and Newcastle. At least 30 retail Discount Tiles are planned, according to Mr. Gordon.

Another feature is that all tiles are to be on hand at the store with no waiting for orders.

This Year's Collar Treatments Dramatic

Brief and curvy wraps in mink get the fall fur story off to the right start. These designs, by Madame Schiaparelli, show the new approach to little mink wraps. They curve to the body, have unique collar treatments and brief sleeves. Jacket (left) in autumn haze mink blouses at the back to end below the waistline. It's waist-length at front; has a wide shawl collar. Cape-jacket has shirred elbow-length sleeves, is cut with wide standaway collar (center). The oval silhouette in breath of spring mink (right) has wide cape collar, three-quarter sleeves. These are intended for wear with the new shorter, slim skirts.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—A girl can look almost any way she fancies in furs this fall. She can put her money into a brief mink jacket or a full-length Persian lamb coat with Empire waist and be in fashion either way.

For fur styles show the same variation in waistline length and cut as other fashions this year.

There is nothing conservative or poky about the new furs and they're not intended for wear by a choice few women. These days, a girl can look upon a mink jacket as a sound investment, save for it, handle it with care and wear it with pride.

The three big silhouettes of fall get the full treatment in fur:

trapeze, modified chemise and the Empire line. All appear in full-length coats and to some degree in jackets, too.

Stoles aren't out of the picture yet but they're getting lots of competition from jackets and capelets. And the new stoles offer collars, curves and shaping. Generally, they're a far cry from the stole which was simply a flat length of fur with lining.

The luxury fur to watch is chinchilla. Already it's appearing in jacket and small, shaped stole form. It also shows up as the collar for full-length coats in fur or fabric. Black-dyed mink and sable are keeping it company. While most women can't afford these furs in coat versions, they can afford them as small fur pieces for daytime or evening wear.

Whether a gal is small, medium or large, there's a fur and a silhouette for her this year. Petite figures get a treatment all their own and tall gals can take to deep, fluffy collars and big coats with wide cut.

State Police Plan Drive on The Slow-Moving Motorists

HARRISBURG (AP)—That pesky motorist—the slow-moving Sunday driver—may be in for trouble.

Maj. Thomas P. Calahan, state police chief of staff, says there's a movement under way to ask the 1959 Legislature for permission to arrest them for going too slow on high-speed roads.

"To my way of thinking many of these so-called Sunday drivers are as much a hazard on a busy road as the speed maniacs," opines Calahan.

His point is that this driver holds up traffic for miles, setting up a situation whereby following motorists start a passing spree in disgust. Passing another car is always a chance-taking proposition.

Pennsylvania law is silent on the slow driver. State police are restricted to warnings. But often the damage is done by the time the offending motorist is pulled off the road.

Calahan takes the position that modern automobiles are capable of going at least 35 m.p.h. in a 50 m.p.h. zone.

"If a car can't go at that speed, something is wrong with it and it doesn't belong on the highway in the first place," he explains.

How about enforcement?

Calahan said several other states have been successful with a minimum speed law and that it should provide no problem in Pennsylvania.

The slow driver would be clocked for a quarter of a mile. If he inched along at less than 35 m.p.h. for that distance in a 50 m.p.h. zone, he would be subject to arrest.

Calahan said a tremendous step forward was taken by the 1955 Legislature in ordering trucks to be equipped with engines and brakes designed to maintain a reasonable speed up and down hills.

The law doesn't become fully effective until 1962. But the overall objective is to keep trucks from piling up traffic behind them on a hill. The brake factor is intended to keep these same trucks under control going down the other side.

When the truck engine and brake law becomes fully operative Calahan sees no objection to giving commercial vehicles the same speed limits as passenger car drivers.

Right now trucks are limited to 10 m.p.h. under passenger car ceilings.

The Pennsylvania Motor Federation (A.A.A.) already is on record in favor of a "reasonable" minimum speed law.

Secretary-manager C. E. Pugh blamed slow-moving vehicles for a host of traffic problems, adding:

"These slow drivers are just as harassing as the driver that zips around you at 80 m.p.h."

Business Index In Pennsylvania For June Down

University Park — Although showing a gain from May, the Index of General Business in Pennsylvania in June stood at the lowest June level since 1955.

The Bureau of Business Research at the Pennsylvania State University today reported that the Index of General Business in June stood at 163, a gain of 3 points from May but a loss of 10 points from a year ago.

The index is based on bank deposits, factory payrolls, and industrial power sales and uses the years of 1947-1949 as 100.

While in May not one of the 11 areas for which individual indexes are available scored an increase over 1957, four cities—Allentown, Harrisburg, Lancaster and Scranton—showed gains in June over a year ago.

The Bureau reported that a great many indicators did better than was expected of them seasonally.

The most spectacular increase was shown by building operations, which went up 48 per cent instead of 19, and by anthracite production, which went up 22

CASTING AROUND—Pretty Niles, Ohio, high school sophomore Jane Schweitzer rolls herself up to the kitchen stove to pop a cake in the oven. The 15-year-old, spending her fourth and last summer encoased in a waist-to-feet cast to correct a slipped leg socket, gets around on the wheeled wooden vehicle built by her father. She'll attend school by a special telephone arrangement this fall. But she expects to be back on her feet again by mid-winter, attending regular classes, her ordeal over.

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—There are many rumors about plans for the Jackie Gleason Show when it begins on CBS-TV Oct. 3, but the only solid information is that Gleason will be on it and so will Buddy Hackett.

Hackett was talking the other day to a fellow who's been telephoning Gleason at a Peekskill, N. Y., number and never getting an answer.

"He's not there," said Hackett, "but if he was he still couldn't answer. That phone is just a bell up on top of a telephone pole. Gleason likes to hear it ring and know he can't answer it."

At any rate, Hackett joined Gleason for three days recently to discuss the new show.

"We played golf for three days," said Hackett, "and we talked golf for three days. As I was coming away, Jackie said, 'The more laughs you get on the show the better I'll like it. I admire you most because you're a good actor.'"

"And I'd like to say I admire Gleason most because he's the only comedian in the country who's funnier than I am and who'd have the nerve to hire me as second man."

"When you're playing second man, you've got to discipline yourself and not appear to the audience that you're stealing lines."

One thing Hackett would like to get straight now is that it's "pre-ordained" he'll be with Gleason only one season—24 half-hour variety shows with the option of eight more.

The year after this, if Gleason returns to television, "I don't want people asking what happened to Hackett," Hackett said. "Because I can tell you right now that Hackett will be in Europe doing a filmed series for television about an American photographer."

baby she was carrying was uninjured.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Camp and children, Howard, Harold and Cheryl, of Pittsfield road, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Lester at McGuire Air Base in New Jersey. Mr. Lester is receiving his honorable discharge after four years in the Air Force and will live in the house formerly owned by Charles Camp.

Roy Wolfe of Washington, Pa., a former teacher at Cole Hill, attended the Wolfe reunion Saturday at Wildcat Park.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Dey, visiting in Oklahoma, that the weather there "is terribly hot."

Takes a Southern Trip In Stolen Jersey Taxicab

ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—"It was just one of those things," cab driver John W. Jenkins told police.

"Those things," police said, included a 17-day southern trip with a cab owned by someone else.

But there were other things too. Detectives pieced them together this way:

Jenkins, 25, was waiting for a fare at a corner when he suddenly got an urge to take off somewhere. So he did.

With a total of $39, Jenkins headed the cab south. He picked up two young hitchhikers in Baltimore and shared the driving chores to Miami with them. Then he continued on to Key West.

He sold his firm's $1,800 cab to a sailor at the Florida naval base for $50.

He then hopped a bus to New Orleans, arriving there with $7.

He was intent of having a good time, but he had only two drinks before police picked him up for questioning. He spent eight days in jail because he couldn't pay a $10 fine.

Jenkins hitchhiked his way home after his release and arrived here Monday night. He walked into police headquarters and gave himself up.

He was ordered held without bail on a larceny charge.

Boyle's Comment

Boyle Substitute
By ANDREW BOROWIEC

HASSI MESSAOUD, Algeria (AP)—Some 3,000 men live and work in the heart of the Sahara without suffering many of the hazards and discomforts of desert life.

Their major problem is lack of women.

The men are employees of French oil companies building what they hope is a future French oil empire amid sun-baked sand dunes.

They live in air-conditioned huts with running water, showers, and plugs for electric razors. They are served five-course meals in air-conditioned dining rooms. Their bars offer a variety of French and foreign drinks—at a fraction of the normal price.

Every day planes land on airstrips in the middle of the desert with mail and newspapers.

The wages of the men of Hassi Messaoud oil site are on the average twice as high as those of comparable workers in France. Their lodging costs nothing and their food costs about $15 a month.

One of the oil companies estimated that in addition to salary and initial investment in living quarters, each man costs it $14 a day.

The workers also receive special bonuses. In summer, when the outside temperature reaches 125 degrees Fahrenheit, the bonuses are the highest.

Every three weeks, the men of the Hassi Messaoud site are transported by plane — free — for a week's rest in Algiers, 500 miles away. Those who want to go to France must pay their own way.

Ninety per cent of the workers are French citizens — of whom two-thirds are Moslems. About 7 per cent are ex-Foreign Legion members and about 3 per cent are skilled foreign technicians.

The site is linked with the oasis of Ouargla—some 60 miles north—by a recently built concrete road. Heavy trucks roll over the road while camels plod through the sands nearby.

Most of the old-timers are proud of making it into an oil town.

None of the oil companies, however, has managed to solve the most acute problem — lack of women. The site is still not ready to install family dwellings, and anyway the added cost frightens the firms.

Said an ex-Foreign Legionnaire: "It is the third week here that always seems the longest. And then your week in Algiers seems like a day and you're back here for another three weeks, thinking of your next leave. That's our life."

per cent instead of 2 per cent.

Other series which rose more than was seasonally expected were carloadings in the Allegheny district, bank deposits, factory hours and payrolls, and sales of new cars and trucks. Bituminous coal production rose substantially instead of dropping slightly. It was explained that some of this improvement accompanied the pick-up in steel production for which no seasonal adjustments are available.

Industrial power sales made a nominal rise, instead of dropping 1 per cent. Factory employment and life insurance sales followed their seasonal patterns, employment showing no change from May and insurance sales dropping slightly. Street railway revenue traffic declined 8 per cent instead of 5 per cent.

Unemployment in June was up 10 per cent from May, representing 10.9 per cent of the civilian labor force instead of 10.1 per cent as in May.

Four indicators showed improvement in June over a year ago. One was bank deposits at a record high. Telephones, although also at a record high, were up only 4 per cent as compared to 6 per cent the previous year and nearly 7 per cent the year before. The third series to show improvement was building operations, which, although well over 1957, was slightly under 1956. Building contracts were up 18 per cent.

All other series were worse than in 1957. Unemployment increased by 93 per cent from a year ago. Carloadings in the Allegheny district were down a fourth and anthracite production was almost as low. Lesser declines were registered by postal receipts, department store sales, factory employment, hours, and payrolls; petroleum; sales of new cars and trucks; industrial power sales; and bituminous coal output.

Life insurance sales, although under 1957, were the second highest on record for the month. Consumers' prices inched to another new high, but food costs held at the same record high point reached last month.

The summary for the Warren area follows: Warren was one of the few counties that had better sales of new cars and trucks this June than last. In the city of Warren, industrial power sales were at their third highest June point, topped only by the last two years. Telephones, as usual here and elsewhere, made a new monthly record. But postal receipts were the lowest for the month since 1953 and building operations since 1952.

New Era of Public Health

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—"Pennsylvania is well advanced in a new era in public health," a New York City Health Department official said today.

Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle, deputy commissioner of the city's Health Department, made the statement at a meeting of physicians in conjunction with the seventh annual health conference here. More than 1,000 public health workers have been attending the convention which continues through Thursday.

Dr. Kandle, who directed a study of Pennsylvania's public health services for the American Public Health Assn. in 1948, said: "Accelerated progress has been achieved in the control of tuberculosis. The public health services in the Commonwealth were organized and ready to take advantage of the Pennsylvania produced polio vaccine, and thus the control of paralytic polio seems to be in sight. Pioneering progress has been achieved in the control of the hazards of radiation. The infant mortality rate, which in 1945 was certainly no credit to Pennsylvania, has been brought down substantially and is now about the same as in the neighboring states and a little better than in New York City.

"The death rate from pneumonia and influenza has been reduced to less than half as much and from a comparatively high position to a creditably low one. These and other reductions can be translated into actual numbers of people. In 1945 for example, 384 Pennsylvania mothers died from puerperal causes but only 93 died in 1955. In 1945 a total of 129 Pennsylvania babies died of whooping cough but only 10 in 1955. The puerperal death rate in 1955 was the lowest among the surrounding states in contrast to the highest in 1945."

Tuesday the Pennsylvania Public Health Assn. adopted a resolution asking Republican and Democratic candidates for governor in the November election to spell out their health programs.

The resolution specifically asked Mayor David L. Lawrence, Pittsburgh, Democrat, and Arthur T. McGonigle, Republican, to spell out their views with "respect to public health and a modern, progressive health department, continuance of state financial aid to support existing health departments and establishment of additional county and multicounty health departments.

The public health group, meeting in connection with the annual Pennsylvania Public Health Council, also renewed its support of the county health unit and fluoridation of public water supplies.

Beauty Obsesses Some Teeners

The teen-ager who has turned into a professional beauty, at, say, 15 or 16, is not unusual. We all know such girls, the ones who are much concerned with their own looks and nothing else really. They spend endless hours experimenting with lipstick and hairdos, pressing clothes and shopping for new clothes.

Actually, a certain amount of this is not only normal but essential to a well-groomed teen-ager. But when it becomes an obsession, it's a bore to everyone nearby. The making of a human being with the power to charm others has much more to it than a mere concern with a pert little face.

Madame Recamier, a famous French beauty, is said to have had rather large feet, thin arms and irregular features. That didn't stop her from bowling over nearly every person—man, woman or child—who ever came into her presence.

There's a lesson to be learned from this. A pair of well-pressed white shorts won't turn any teen-ager into a beauty.

Your beauty tools belong to you alone and they should never be used by anyone else. Most of us wouldn't think of lending a toothbrush to another person. But we pass out powder puffs, lipsticks, combs, rouge and hairbrushes without thinking about it twice.

We are, of course, just begging for scalp and skin troubles when we do this. For your beauty tools are just as personal as your toothbrush. They should be used by you clean and never lent even to your best friend.

They should be replaced before they start looking grubby, and you should change the powder puff you carry in your compact once a day.

The summer sun will not only give you a tan, it will heal small blemishes on your skin. Sand at the beach will act like mild sandpaper on your feet, removing calluses and rough skin. Salt water will soothe your frazzled nerves and make you feel like a human being again.

All of these beauty aids are powerful—and they're free. Take full advantage of them while summer lasts but don't overdo them. When you sense that you're getting enough sun, go into the shade, or leave the beach entirely. And cream your skin after your shower or bath to prevent it from drying out.

The Eskimo village of Kotzebue, Alaska, holds an annual Fourth of July celebration which includes a beauty contest. The girls striving for the queen's crown don't wear bathing suits. They wear fur parkas.

Penn'a Well Advanced on a New Era of Public Health

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — "Pennsylvania is well advanced in a new era in public health," a New York City Health Department official said today.

YOUR FOREST RANGER

L. E. Stotz

A forest leaf, like all other living things, experiences birth, maturity and death. By late August, the leaves of the hardwood forests of the Allegheny Plateau are already past middle age. Although they may be riddled by leaf eating insects, withered by summer drought or disfigured by insect galls, they still wave proudly in the wind like tattered battle flags.

These billions of little leaf factories have been trapping energy from the sun ever since they first unfolded from buds last spring, and turned their bright green blades toward the light. No man-made factory, ever in the atomic age, can approach the silent efficiency of a single leaf. It takes but forty of them to manufacture enough food to produce a single large fruit on an apple tree in a forest clearing.

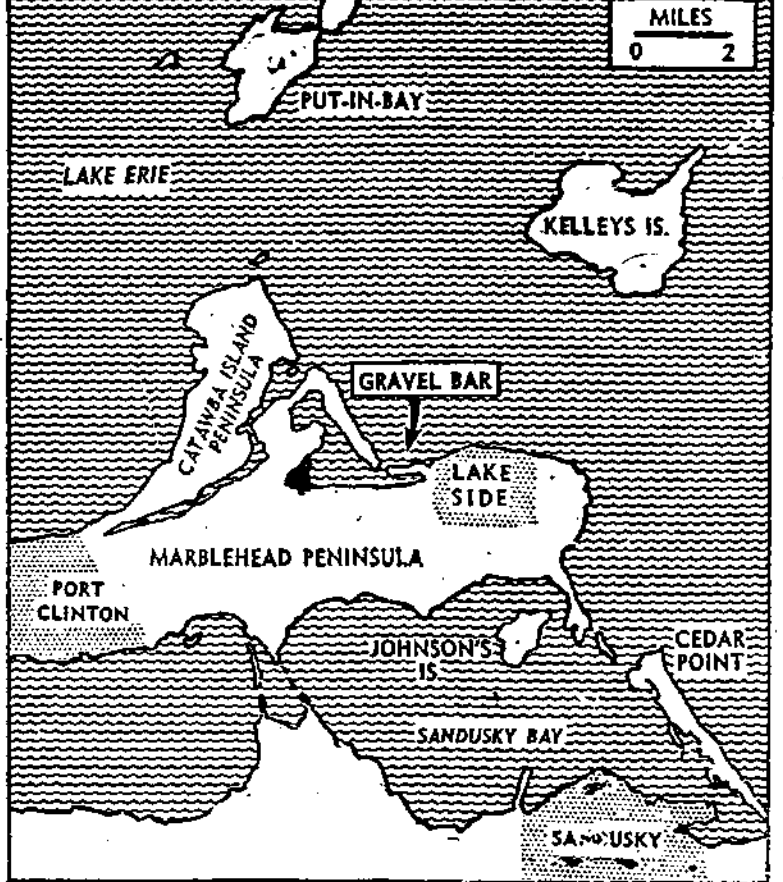

Even a big league baseball bat cannot be produced from white ash unless enough leaf surface is exposed to the sun to trap the right amount of radiant energy to produce the food required for wide annual growth rings. If the tree is too crowded in the stand, only a small amount of leaf surface will face the sunlight. Under these conditions, the annual rings of wood will be narrow and the tree will grow too slowly to produce quality ball bats.

The efficiency of the leaf factories, that shade nearly half a million acres on the Allegheny National Forest, varies widely by species. The light loving black cherry and white ash must have their leafy crowns open to the sky, while the beech and the sugar maple can tolerate shade and still put on growth.

When a forest tree grows out in the open, it receives abundant light from all sides, and its leaf factories operate at maximum efficiency. But since it does not have to struggle to get its crown into the light it spreads out like the fat lady in the circus side show. Such a tree produces a tremendous lot of leaves and wood fiber, but no number of any value.

Intensive forest management is the tool that provides enough growing space for each crop tree to keep growing rapidly without sacrificing quality. It does not attempt to abolish the struggle for existence that all living things in the forest must experience if we are to have clean boled trees for lumber and feet footed wildlife for good hunting.

The timber management plan for the Allegheny National Forest is tailored to fit the fast growing species of the Allegheny Plateau. Under this plan, the whole forest will be completely covered every ten years through an annual cutting program that will keep the leaf factories operating at full capacity.

Labor Legislation Shows No Signs of Revitalization

WASHINGTON (AP) Labor legislation showed no signs of life today despite President Eisenhower's attempt to goad Congress into passing such a bill before adjournment.

It was hard to find any senator or representative who believed a labor bill could be pushed through in these final days of the session.

In a special statement Wednesday, Eisenhower expressed disappointment "that the Congress has thus far failed to enact legislation to curb the racketeering, corruption and abuses of trust and power" which he said the Senate Rackets Committee has found in the labor-management field.

"I still hope that before adjournment the Congress will pass a labor bill which will effectively protect the working men and women of our country," Eisenhower added.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell also made an appeal for action before Congress goes home, perhaps this weekend.

Rhubarb Develops Over Plowing Contest Safety

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—A rhubarb developed today on the safety of a hilly site for the two-day 16th national plowing championships.

Mrs. Pauline Blankenship, 36-year-old farm mother from Murfreesboro, Tenn., who is the only woman entered in the contest, said the hill was not too safe for contour plowing with a tractor.

Both she and Minnesota's entrant, Donald W. Elkoff, of Fountain, said the steep hill—it has a 12 per cent grade—would be restricted to pasture were it on their farms back home.

Neither planned a protest. Both went ahead with plans to compete in the contour championship today in competition with nine others of the finest plowmen in the nation. Another 10 or 11 will vie for honors Friday in the level land plowing event.

Ralph E. Patterson, Penn State agricultural engineering expert, took issue with the opinions expressed by Mrs. Blankenship and Elkoff. He said safety was a big factor in choosing the site.

French Minister to Visit Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower arranged to confer late today with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The White House said the foreign minister would arrive from New York, where he is attending the United Nations General Assembly sessions, for the conference late in the day.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Couve de Murville is coming primarily to pay his respects.

The United States imports agricultural products from more than 130 countries.

Barney Baker

He did deny giving to Mrs. Brougher's lawyer, George Everett, in an effort to fix the courts on her appeal from a manslaughter conviction.

Baker was called back by the Senate Rackets Committee to answer questions about testimony that he enabled blonde Mrs. Ruth Brougher to live in plus Miami surroundings in 1955 while she waited the outcome of an appeal from a manslaughter conviction.

Mrs. Brougher, brought here from a Florida prison to testify, swore Wednesday she had no idea where the money came from. Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) had asked whether it was from Baker's own funds, the Teamster treasury or stolen or kidnap money.

Testifying that Baker once asked her to marry him, Mrs. Brougher said he spent from $20,000 to $25,000 on her in less than a year. Baker set the figure at $7,000 to $8,000.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Baker would be asked whether he received money for Mrs. Brougher from Miami gangster Mike (Trigger) Mike) Capola.

There were signs of strained relations between the 300-pound Baker and his boss—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa. Baker, an ex-convict, is an aide to Hoffa in Detroit.

After Wednesday's session, Hoffa poked Baker in the back and snapped, "Come with me." Photographers had spotted Hoffa delivering an angry lecture to Baker in a car during the noon recess.

Baker was a subdued witness after a morning performance that delighted spectators in the jammed hearing room.

In the forenoon session, Baker roared that the committee was unfair in trying to connect him with the missing $300,000 of what he called "blood-tainted" Greenlease ransom money. He accused the committee of trying to smear Gov. Averell Harriman of New York by linking them.

Legislature

Wednesday night to convince the governor it was doing all possible to delay re-entry of seven Negroes into the sprawling high school.

Mob riots broke out last fall when nine Negroes first entered the high school, and President Eisenhower sent paratroopers to restore order with bayonets.

Faubus today said he plans to send messages to the 100 House members and the 35 Senators but did not want to make the official call just yet.

The school board has asked a federal appeals court to stay an order that would send the seven Negroes back to the high school.

At St. Louis, the clerk of the appeals court, Robert Tucker, said the application for stay was received this morning and would be submitted to the court.

Tucker refused to say whether one or all of the judges would consider the application. The court split 6-1 in overturning U. S. District Judge Harry J. Lemley's ruling. Chief Justice Archibald K. Gardner wrote the dissent.

Attorneys for the Negroes had urged the court to make the ruling effective at once so the Negroes could be admitted when school starts in less than two weeks.

Dispatch of the board's request was announced Wednesday night by Supt. Virgil Blossom after board members met for two hours with Gov. Orval Faubus behind closed doors.

Blossom said the board asked the U. S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis to stay its Aug. 18 ruling because conditions at Central High would be hard to bear if the Negroes went back while a federal-state controversy over integration persisted.

Attorneys for the Negro students filed a motion asking the St. Louis court to instruct its clerk to issue a mandate on its decision immediately instead of waiting the usual 20 days. Otherwise, the motion said, a low postponement of integration until early 1961 would be in effect when school starts Sept. 2 and the Negroes would be barred.

Faubus had demanded the meeting with the school board in an attempt to learn in detail how it planned to resist integration and whether Negroes expected to enter other white schools at Little Rock this fall.

The governor said it was a "very friendly and amicable meeting." He added that the board answered most of his questions but couldn't reply to others because it was still considering them.

He did not say what the answers were.

He said there was "always the possibility of such a special session of the legislature and if and when I reach that decision, it will be announced."

Columbia Theatre Building in News

The Times-Mirror learned today from an authentic source that a real estate transaction is in the making whereby it is expected that as soon as the legal angles are worked out the Columbia Theatre building in Second Avenue will become the property of Warren interests. The building was erected half a century ago by J. D. Woodard, one of the community's early retailers and business promoters. Through the years various theatre chains held leases on it and at one time it was a close competitor to the Library Theatre. It is expected further developments will be announced in the near future.

Military Court

Sammour, 22, was sentenced to 10 years.

The outcome of the trial to some extent undercut a new propaganda campaign which opponents of King Hussein told Jordan had been trying to launch.

Adherents of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic had spread the word through the Arab world several days ago that all five defendants had been sentenced to hang. Nasser's Cairo radio called the black-haired, sullenly beautiful Miss Salti a Moslem Joan of Arc.

The trial was the second of persons charged with smuggling arms or explosives from Syria since the current crisis began. Thirteen persons were sentenced to death on Aug. 13.

Another bomb went off in Beirut, Lebanon, today, this one in a bus that had just reached the Lebanese capital from the southern port of Sidon. Five passengers were slightly injured.

Arab Group

Hammarskjold to make arrangements that would permit withdrawal of U. S. troops from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan.

A new feature is a reaffirmation of the Arab nations' previous pledge not to interfere in each others' affairs, pledges which the Lebanese and Jordanian governments have charged President Nasser's United Arab Republic with ignoring consistently.

The plan was cabled to the Arab capitals for approval. If this last hurdle is cleared, the resolution might be presented to the Assembly today, an Arab spokesman said. If it is adopted, the session might end tonight or Friday.

An American spokesman said the U. S. delegation "thoroughly approves the Arab countries' trying to deal themselves with the problem of protecting the independence of each of them," but he stopped short of outright endorsement of the new proposal, saying that the American delegates were giving it close study.

Secretary of State Dulles hastened back to the United Nations Wednesday night after a flying trip to Washington for a conference with Eisenhower. He went into immediate consultations with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge on the Arab proposal.

The United States and Britain have been main supporters of the Norwegian proposal to ask Hammarskjold to draft general recommendations for a Middle East settlement. The sudden Arab move made it doubtful the Norwegian plan would be put to a vote.

weapons tests. The Soviet Union announced a unilateral test suspension last March. The third atomic-arms power, Britain, is preparing to start a new series of tests in the Pacific.

The experts urged that control station staffs should have complete freedom of movement for on-the-spot investigations, and that stations should be set up at sea as well as on land.

An announcement said the combined use of the various known methods for detecting nuclear explosions could make control of a test ban feasible "within certain specific limits."

Antonelli Bashes Home Run Into Right Field Seats

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Don't jump on the pitcher just because he throws a home run ball. Give the guy that hit it some credit.

This advice comes from Johnny Antonelli, the San Francisco Giant lefty who throws plenty of gopher balls but also knocks one out of the park himself now and then.

The 28-year-old pitcher bashed a third inning home run about 370 feet into the right field seats Tuesday and pitched the Giants to a 10-inning 4-3 victory over Cincinnati.

Antonelli's homer was the first in Seals Stadium by a pitcher since major league baseball came here. But it was John's 13th in his 10-year career.

Antonelli wasn't talking about his own hitting prowess when he discussed the home run. He was referring to Pete Whisenant, the Redleg outfielder who hit a ninth inning two-run shot into the left field stands to send the game into extra innings.

The Giants won the game in the 10th when Orlando Cepeda reached first on Johnny Temple's error and scored on Willie Kirkland's long triple.

Doormat Pirates Suddenly Blossom as Contenders

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

PITTSBURGH—(NEA)—It was on Aug. 3 of last season when Murlough answered the phone in a Chicago hotel and then put on his jacket and went to Joe L. Brown's suite to say, yes, he would move up from coach to be manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The team won 26 and lost 25 the rest of the way under him, but at the major league meetings at Colorado Springs during the winter, Danny was around taking Pittsburgh front office people off to one side and insisting that "We'll make the first division. And we could do better than that."

It would seem, then, that he had a good line on the Pirates, who now have moved up—permanently, baseball people say—from a seventh and eighth place finisher to a team on the near fringes of pennant contention.

"THAT WAS A LITTLE TOO MUCH for me to figure," Danny admits, however. "You look at where we were—seventh place. The possibilities were there. We all knew that. But I didn't walk in and take the job with the idea this was going to happen automatically. It was a little too much to count on."

"But after I began to think the club out I could see where there was no reason why we couldn't be in the first division. After that, you hoped for more."

Murlough, and the Pittsburgh fans who have started to turn out wholesale, are now getting all they ever could have hoped for. This is the team that now has respect from every quarter. At the All-Star game, for example, players from both leagues stopped to watch Bill Mazeroski, the Buc second baseman, work out during infield practice.

"He hardly touches the ball," Whitey Ford of the Yankees mused. "He gets rid of it that quick."

WORKING WITH DICK GROAT at short and Frank Thomas at third, Mazeroski gives the Pirates as strong an infield as there is in the majors. Bob Skinner, the outfielder, has finally arrived as the big hitter. And with Bob Friend, Vern Law, Ron Kline, Curt Raydon, Roy Face and George Witt, the pitching is there. If Roberto Clemente could keep up his hitting Milwaukee might have a serious challenger.

All of which gives some meaning to the baseball arguments they have at Frank Gussino's or Coyne's or the Devonshire or the other places around Forbes Field.

Everybody talks baseball in these places, but in the past they would be bringing up a ball club that was a cross between a college class and the minor leagues.

FRED HANEY, WHO MANAGED THEM for a time before moving to the Braves and luxury, still remembers having one of Branch Rickey's bright college-trained bonus-spoiled youngsters on second, with two out, a run needed. The young man tried to steal third, ignoring every baseball rule ever written, and when he came back to the dugout after being thrown out he mumbled something about thinking he could make it.

"I don't know what you were thinking," Haney snapped "but if you were thinking about the Wall Street Journal and those stock averages you can start thinking $100 less."

But it is different now. After running through sieges with a Paul Pettit or Ron Naccari or Dick Hall the Pirates throw big leaguers at you now and they are around to stay.

Chicago—Virgil Alons, 150, St. Louis, stopped Charlie (Tomstone) Smith, 148, Los Angeles, 10 (nontitle).

Lopez Avows His White Sox Are Aiming for First

NEW YORK (AP)—The Chicago White Sox have won seven in a row and Manager Al Lopez is back in business.

"Second place?" Al scoffed. "Hell, no! We're going to shoot for the moon. We can still catch those Yankees."

"Why not? What is it now, seven games we've made up on them in the last two weeks? They're not playing good ball and there's a lot of games left. We're 10½ games behind now. Who says we can't make up another seven or eight in the next few weeks?"

Lopez was back in form as his Sox went into the opener of a three-game series with the American League leaders tonight at Yankee Stadium. Always sure "the Yankees can be had," even Al admitted it would take some doing on his last trip to New York.

That was in mid-July. The White Sox were fifth, 15½ games behind, after losing two of three to the champs.

Costly Champ

NEW YORK—(NEA)—One thing about Floyd Patterson. He certainly isn't easy on promoters. Since becoming heavyweight champion, he has boxed for three different promoters—Emill Lence, Jack Hurley and Bill Rosensohn. And all have found him to be a lackluster gate draw.

Lance, who promoted the Patterson-Hurricane Jackson bout at the Polo Grounds in New York last year, took a mild financial bath. Hurley merely represented Pete Rademacher's backers for their Seattle go—and they went for a good bundle.

And young Bill Rosensohn, who put on the Roy Harris bout in Los Angeles, had his bankroll singed.

When Floyd's manager, Gus D'Amato, mentioned he was thinking of boxing in England, the fight mob took it casually. "Him and his fighter are looking to break the whole world," the New York fisticast observed. "Just coast to coast ain't good enough for them."

Pitt Scores 3 to 0 Win Over Green Bay

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Rookie end Tom Miner of Tulsa appears to be a leading candidate to do the place kicking for the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

With one second left to play Wednesday night, Miner booted a 37-yard field goal to give the Steelers a 3-0 victory over the Green Bay Packers in an exhibition game.

Both teams slipped all over County Stadium in the rain-doused contest. Receivers were unable to hold passes and fumbles were many.

The winning placement was set up by Jack Butler who intercepted Babe Parilli's pass on the 50 and returned it to the 37. Moments before, Miner was short with a field goal attempt from the 47.

Speaking of Sports

St. Marys Junior Legion baseball officials feel that they have been accorded an unfair treatment at the recent American Legion playoffs. According to the officials and witness of the St. Marys-New Brighton contest, which was won by New Brighton 6-5, the winning run was called a homer, although the ball bounced off the ground and over the fence instead of making a clean clearing of the fence. St. Marys men traveled to Barnesboro Sunday, after series officials promised that at least one official would be on hand to hear their story of the protest, only to find the door slammed in their faces.

An editorial from Daily Press, St. Marys, comments, "If this is the way Legion baseball is to be conducted in Pennsylvania it should be dropped before young men of Legion baseball playing age wonder what the word 'fair deal' means. First of all it seems questionable why St. Marys should be playing teams in the Beaver Valley section, 146 miles away instead of meeting teams from their own back yard such as DuBois and Philipsburg. Then again the shrug-of-the-shoulder treatment accorded St. Marys Legion officers when they made their protests by phone after returning from New Brighton Saturday hardly squares up to what can be called good sportsmanship. This plus the absent treatment handed out at Barnesboro Sunday means the whole matter will be brought to the floor of state Legion convention in Philadelphia next month where it should command serious attention, not only for the benefit of the Legion itself, but for the benefit of a bunch of fine baseball players in St. Marys who tried to have their day in court only to find the door slammed in their face at Barnesboro."

Bud Wilkinson denies, but heatedly, that he was offered a pro coaching job by Chicago Cardinals—or anyone else. "Sure, I talked to Walter Wolfner, before the Orange Bowl game, but all he asked me was what kind of coach Pop Ivy was and I said, 'Great.'"

Bobby Layne's plenty hot because he's second middle on the Lions so far this autumn, and has been getting on the other guys for not putting up a better wall around his passing efforts. . . Not every Aussie's crazy about the feats of super-miller Herb Elliott—a fellow Aussie, Alex Henderson, blurted after one of his wins in the States: "Too bad it had to be that bloody Elliott. He's won everything else already."

Otto Graham on coaching: "The biggest thing you have to learn is to say something, but say nothing. Delegate authority. Then if something goes wrong, blame it on one of your assistants." Final Graham tidbit: "Standing on the sidelines, I have to remind myself, 'You're a coach now. Sit back and let the kids do it.'"

The surprise package in the camp of Cleveland Browns is the littlest one of them all, Leroy Bolden, a 5-6 service returner who played at Michigan State, and bucking a halfback contingent that's most loaded of all the positions on the squad.

For whatever significance it had, Roy Harris' wife turned 23 on the day of his 23rd bout—Floyd Patterson Monday evening. Mrs. Harris, incidentally, is fed up with the Cut 'N' Shoot hick routine. She cut short

Chicago Bears Look Fine To Owner-Coach Halas

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—Owner-coach George Halas, sizing up his Chicago Bears as 20 per cent better than last year, is looking for another toss-up battle in the Western Division of the National Football League.

The 63-year-old Halas, who came out of retirement to take another crack at coaching his Chicago Bears, believes Green Bay will be the most improved team in the league.

"The Los Angeles Rams are also improved and Baltimore expects to win the title," said Halas. "Detroit, of course, is the champion and San Francisco tied Detroit only to lose in the playoff. We'll be 20 per cent better so it should be a toss-up as to who'll win the title."

Pleased by his team's 24-7 exhibition victory over the Chicago Cardinals last Sunday, Halas lauded the play of several newcomers. They included rookie fullback Merrill Douglas from the University of Utah and linemen Abe Giron formerly of Cleveland and Philadelphia and Willie Lee who was acquired from Pittsburgh.

NEA—With bowlers, even the good ones, a 300 game is something you wait for. And Tommy Zavakos, who in the late 1920's was considered one of the coming kingly greats, knows all about it. Tommy rolled his first American Bowling League sanctioned 300 game on Nov. 3, 1925. He was a member of a Dayton team that won ABC five-man championship a few years later. But rather than be a touring bowling star, Zavakos settled down to running a bowling center here—and waiting for that next 300 game to come. From 1925 until January 25, 1957—when he finally hit 300 again—Tommy averaged 200 in league competition. But it took him 31 years to hit a perfect score.

Yanks Down Indians To End A Four-Game Losing Streak

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
The second-place Chicago White Sox have a seven-game winning streak, their longest in two years. The first-place New York Yankees have a winning streak of one, their longest in a week.

That's the way things stand as the White Sox roll into Yankee Stadium tonight for the opener in a three-game set.

The White Sox are on a drive to nail second place (although Manager Al Lopez insists they're shooting for the flag) and at the moment they're doing right well, winning 15 of their last 18 games in a rush from fourth place. They're now 10½ games behind New York.

They built a four-game lead over third-place Boston by beating the Red Sox 10-8 Wednesday after blowing a six-run lead.

The Yankees, who had lost four in a row, ended that with a 7-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Detroit clung to fourth by beating Washington 7-1 while Baltimore regained fifth with a 4-3 decision over Kansas City.

Jim Landis drove in four runs for the White Sox, doubling home a pair for a 7-1 lead and then nailing it with a two-run homer, his 15th, in the seventh inning. Turk Lown won his third in relief.

Art Ditmar (9-4) had a four-hit shutout for six innings and wound up with an eight-hitter for the first complete game by a Yankee pitcher in 13 games. Yogi Berra belted his 18th and 19th home runs for a 3-0 lead against loser Gary Bell (7-3).

Al Kaline rapped a pair of three-run homers for the Tigers, who had lost five in a row. Frank Lary won his 12th with an eight-hitter, losing his shutout bid on an unearned run in the third. Pete Ramos lost it.

Bob Nieman, out five days with a bum hand, hit a run-scoring triple in a two-run first inning, then led it for the Orioles with a two-run homer in the third off loser Walt Craddock (0-2). Jack Harshman (10-11) allowed only five hits, and had the A's blanked on two hits until the eighth inning.

Akins Saves Face With a TKO Over Smith in Tenth

CHICAGO (AP)—Welterweight champion Virgil Akins saved face Wednesday night with a 10th-round technical knockout of hardy Charlie (Tombstone) Smith.

He didn't have much face to save.

Smith, a gangling 4-1 underdog, opened cuts at the corner of Akins' eyes. By the 10th of the nationally televised show, the champ's face was a crimson mask.

The end came suddenly for Smith, eighth-ranking contender from Los Angeles. Tombstone had a big lead on all official cards as he christened the rusty Akins with long, popping lefts and digging rights.

In the 10th round, Akins charged Smith furiously at the bell and pummeled him with rights and lefts.

A left hook decked Tombstone for an eight count. He arose fog-bound.

Then Akins drove him into a corner. He landed 16 rights and lefts without Tombstone fighting back. Referee Frank Sikora stopped it at 1:18.

In making his first ring appearance since winning the welterweight title last June, Akins weighed 150 to Smith's 148.

$15000 Batavia Downs Race Set for Friday

BATAVIA—The tenth annual Rochester Trophy trot, a one mile test for $15,000 and a handsome silver trophy, will be raced Friday at Batavia Downs. This is the first of three rich stakes carded for the current season.

Trader Horn, winner in track record time of the important event last year, tops the fast field. Bill Haughton—America's top harness race driver—will again rein the Florida-owned ace. Last year Trader Horn dropped the local trot mark to 2:02 1/5.

Trader Horn and Darn Safe are the top candidates for season trotting honors. The pair have been dividing stake engagements throughout the season.

The split the Cleveland Trotting Derby. Darn Safe copped the Massachusetts Trotting Derby but Trader Horn gained the money-earned edge by a show finish in the $25,000 American Trotting Championship.

Bums Blow More Foam Off Lead Held by Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Dodgers did it again!

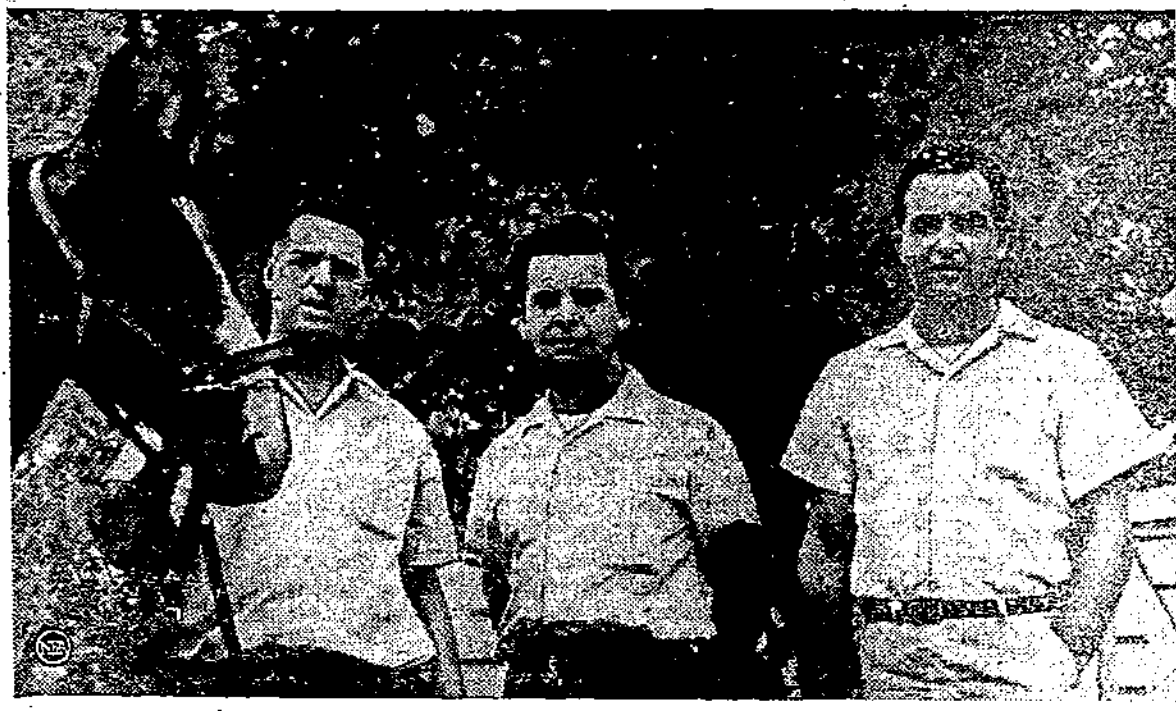

They blew some more foam off Milwaukee's National League lead Wednesday night, taking their third in a row from the Braves 2-1.

That slashed the champs' lead to 5½ games, with two games remaining in the series at Los Angeles before Milwaukee plunges into a five-game set with the second-place Giants at San Francisco.

The Dodgers got only four hits off Warren Spahn. At that, they needed only the last two, scoring in the fifth inning on Joe Pignatano's home run, a walk and Norm Larker's triple.

All that with San Francisco's 4-3 afternoon victory over Cincinnati beaming down on the Braves from the Coliseum scoreboard.

Philadelphia quit the cellar and cut a losing string at seven games by rapping St. Louis 12-2 with Willie Jones driving in eight runs.

Third-place Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs 4-2, then lost 5-1 in the second game of the double-header held to five innings by rain and darkness.

Bob Friend took his 13th defeat in the nightcap at Chicago. Dick Drott (6-10) didn't give up a hit until Bill Mazeroski slapped his 16th home run in the fifth inning.

Friend got the only other Buc hit, a two-out double in the same frame.

Dick Stuart's two-run homer, his 11th, and a pair of RBI singles by Dick Groat bagged the opener for the Bucs and Ron Kline (12-11).

The Giants, blanked on two hits for four innings by Harvey Had-dix, scored two in the fifth on Ray Jablonski's pinch double and a bases-loaded walk, then handed reliever Brooks Lawrence (6-12) his ninth defeat in a row as Valmy Thomas singled. Jabbo doubled and Bill White lined a pinch single that scored them both in the sixth. Al Worthington (10-5) won it in relief.

Rookie Stuart Is Again the Hero Of Pirates Victory

CHICAGO (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates meet the Chicago Cubs again here today, hoping to surpass last year's high of 62 victories.

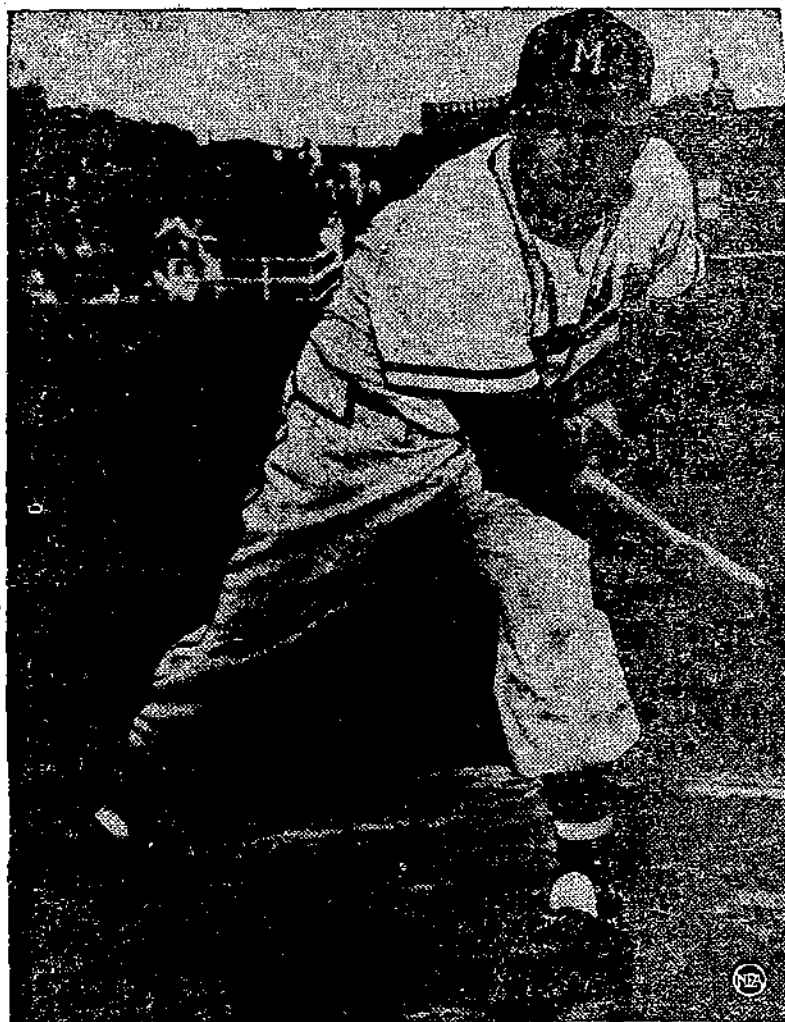

The Pirates and the Cubs split a doubleheader Wednesday, Pittsburgh taking the first game 4-2 and losing the second 5-1. The nightcap was called with two out in the Chicago fifth because of rain and darkness.

But the first game triumph gave Pittsburgh 62 victories, as many as the Pirates won all last year.

And again it was rookie first baseman Dick Stuart who provided the spark for the first game win.

Stuart belted his second two-run homer in as many games. It was his 11th of the year and fifth in seven games against the Cubs.

A pair of singles by Dick Groat drove in the Pirates' third and fourth runs to give Ron Kline his 12th victory against 11 losses.

BIG DEAL—It cost the Braves $40,000 to get Joey Jay four years ago and he's still a big figure man. When he hurt his right elbow in July, the Braves were afraid he'd cost them a World Series cut. But Jay, a husky ex-Little Leaguer, came back strong as Milwaukee got its pennant pull-away into full swing.

Betts Advance to Final Round in Softball Playoffs

Black Knights of Betts Machine Shop advanced to the final round of Warren City Softball League's Shaughnessy playoffs last night when they trounced Jones Chevrolet 7-2 at Sheffield, thus sweeping semi-final series in two straight games.

Monday evening, Betts defeated Jones 6-2 on West Side field.

Gene Sweet scattered seven hits while his teammates gathered nine, four of which were for extra bases, including a long home run blast by Lou Cummings. It was Sweet's 15th consecutive victory without a defeat.

Black Knights grabbed an early 4-0 lead by the third inning. Sid Cummings' lead-off single backed by Bud Berdine's double, produced one in the first.

Second inning, Rico Bonavita, who has been swinging a hot bat, stroked a single to center, stole second, and scored on Lefty Haight's sacrifice fly. Bob Schenck followed with a single and scored on Sweet's double. Bud Berdine doubled and Bonavita singled in the third to produce another marker.

Sheffield secured one run in the third on Clyde Farnsworth's double and Bob Fitch's single. With Cummings' home blast, the lead was pushed to 5-1 in the fifth. Betts iced the game.

with two more runs in the sixth. Gundy Steffan homered in the sixth for Jones.

Big Ten Race Could Turn Into Helicat Scramble

By JOE MOOSHUL
 Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten football race, unpredictable at best, could turn into a helicat scramble this year with at least seven teams fighting for the title.

Ohio State's defending champions and Michigan State's Spartans will be the teams to beat. Iowa, Wisconsin and Purdue are expected to challenge strongly and Michigan and Illinois never can be counted out until the season ends.

For Minnesota, Indiana and Northwestern, it looks like another long season.

Woody Hayes, Ohio State coach, promises the same bruising attack which has brought the Buckeyes three unbeaten titles in the last three years. Hayes plans to employ a powerful ground attack headed by fullback Bob White, fine line play and a great defense.

Michigan State is set to challenge all comers for the national title. The Spartans are loaded but they may be in the quarterback slot vacated by Jim Ninowski.

Iowa again will be tough. The Hawkeyes have quarterback Randy Duncan to pass. They also have good and speedy halfbacks, a fine line and an easy schedule.

Purdue is the team that could take it all—Big Ten title, Rose Bowl and possibly a national title. There are 26 lettermen returning at the Boilermaker campus. Purdue won five of its last six games in 1957, including a 20-13 upset triumph over Michigan State.

Wisconsin has a tough schedule but the Badgers are ready. They have a veteran team and 28 returning lettermen. The schedule includes Iowa, Ohio State and Michigan State in succession.

Barbara took a 7 and 6 licking from her veteran Scottish opponent.

Independent All-Stars Suffer First Defeat

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
 Associated Press Sports Writer

Warren Independent All-Stars whipped the former local Hot Stove players 8-1 in an exhibition game at Glenwood Memorial Field in Kane. The local group participated in "Ed Moran Appreciation Night", honoring the James City youth for his fine showing with the American track squad who returned from an European circuit of meets recently.

Warren's only run was scored in the fourth when Massa walked, stole second and third, and dashed across the plate as Fossoli singled.

McCarthy secured the only extra base hit for the locals, a double. Walters homered for Kane, Edsall tripled and Knapp scored a two bagger.

Massa, Fossoli in the fifth with Suppa behind the plate composed Warren batteries; Malmstrom and Knapp for Kane.

Warren Indies had one run, three hits, one error; eight runs, eight hits and one error for Kane.

Before the exhibition contest, Penn State star Moran ran sprints on the field so Kane residents could see him in action. He was presented a gift as a token of appreciation.

August 30, Kane All-Stars will travel to Warren to oppose the Indies on Jackson Field.

Swimming Team Wins Honors at Meet Held in Erie

Members of Conewango Valley Country Club swimming team secured high honors in yesterday's Lake Shore Country Club swimming meet in Erie as two new records were set, two first place honors captured, and four in the 200-yard freestyle.

Officials and spectators were amazed at the fine showing of the Warren "fish." Adding even further to their astonishment, was the fact that the team is coached by a 17-year-old swimmer. All meet officials in Erie were high in praise of Madden and the work he has done with this group.

Last week in a meet at Kah-kwa Club in Erie, all Warren swimmers, under Madden, placed in fifth position or above in all events.

George Washington was a proficient surveyor at the age of 14, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.
